

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tuckett Honeymooning in Jamaica

Gowned in pure silk taffeta, Betty Ross Brown became the bride of James Ronald Tuckett Saturday evening at North Congregational church. The Rev. John W. Meiler performed the candlelight ceremony in the presence of 250 guests.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brown of Detroit. Her husband is the son of the James Ross Tucketts of Wing Lake road, Bloomfield Hills.

THE BRIDE'S gown featured short sleeves and portrait neckline edged with alencon lace, tiny seed pearls and sequins. The voluminous skirt, with all of the fullness on both sides, had alencon lace panels in both front and back, falling into a court train.

Her veil was designed with a pearl and sequin crown with four-tiered fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. A cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis completed the bridal picture.

MRS. JOSEPH D. COX served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Middleton, Mrs. Frederick Smith and Mrs. Donald Robinson.

Attendants were gowned in aqua peau de soie dresses with bouffant ballerina length skirts and carried bouquets of pink roses and carnations. Stanley Goodman stood as best man. Seating the guests were Richard Middleton, Frederick Smith and Donald Robinson.

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE selected a turquoise re-embroidered nylon organza sheath with floating panels in back with matching accessories. Mrs. Tuckett chose an ice blue nylon organza gown with a V neckline front and back trimmed with bands of sequins and pearls.

The new Mrs. Tuckett changed to a powder blue Italian imported silk suit with white accessories for her honeymoon to Jamaica.
