How To Win Friends With a Tent

By KAROL DARLING
Eccentric Correspondent

FOXCRIFT—A blue and white striped open-air tent is the most popular spot in Foxcroft this summer. And the newly arrived Robert McLeans are mighty popular too.

One of the McLeans' first projects after they moved to Crabtree road a few weeks ago was to put up the tent for their children, Connie and Scott. In no time at all every child in the neighborhood was anxiously awaiting his turn to sleep all night in the "blue and white."

So night after night the parade of the bed rolls goes on. Even rain doesn't stop it. The children wedge themselves four at a time under the mosquito netting, some on cots and some on the hard ground.

A typical night in the "blue and white" starts soon after dinner with hours of struggling with blankets and cots. Eventually all is quiet. Until dawn, when the kids wake up fully refreshed and raring to go. But unlike the Arab, these kids don't quietly fold up their tent and silently steal away.

The McLeans are early risers. Hot chocolate and toast arrive at the tent via McLean. Then about 8 a.m. the kids invade the house to make popcorn.

The girls, when they had their turn at the "blue and white" recently, made brownies and cupcakes after the popcorn. Then they made the rounds selling their orange-frosted cupcakes around Foxcroft.

You can see why the kids are promoting making the "blue and white" an annual attraction.

Bloomfield West Social Briefs

The George F. Sweets will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary July 19 with cocktails and a buffet supper in the garden of their home on Euclid drive.

It was in the garden of her mother's home in Detroit 25 years ago that the Sweets were married and their anniversary plans will include the same number of guests that attended their wedding.

The Sweets have two children, Bud, who completed his studies at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton just in time to be in on the festivities and Sandra who is a student at Birmingham high school.

Out of town guests will include Mrs. Sweets' sister, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Loewen who will come from their home in Evansville, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reed of Shelby, Ohio.

Mrs. Martin Laitug will entertain 21 guests this evening at her E. Dartmouth road home at a kitchen and bathroom shower honoring Miss Loraine Trepagnier of Detroit. Miss Trepagnier will marry John Miller of Dearborn on August 23.

Numerous cocktail parties preceded the annual barbecue for members of the Lone Pine Beach association Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Riggle hosted a party at their Indian Trail home for Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. James Sweeney, Dr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vachovic, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Franks.

The Edward Trzinski of Mohawk Court had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fry and Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Dingwall.

Everyone agreed that credit for the success of the affair go to Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Barber who took over the big task of barbecuing chickens for 140 guests when the caterer disappointed them.

Senor Goletta, of Buenos Aires was a dinner guest of the Donald E. Irwins of Westmore road recently.

Last Sunday the Irwins entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Thompson and their four children for dinner following a swimming party at Oakland Hills country club.

Mr. and Mrs. Cass Brovorny of Chicago were weekend guests of her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bell of Walnut Lake. Jill Brovorny remained with her grandparents for her summer vacation.

Kathryn Mills, daughter of the R. W. Mills of Eastmore road, is spending the week with three other Detroit aspirants of St. Catherine's convent, Ravine, Wis., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Schmitt of Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills invited friends in for dinner following the christening of their new son, Peter Gerard.

On the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stanford, the baby's sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. John Leslie, both of Royal Oak and Mrs. George Hildebrand of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ofenstein hosted a family dinner Sunday to honor Robert Ofenstein on his birthday. Attending with Ofenstein were his wife and children, Cathy, John and Bobby. Also in attendance were the A. G. Ofenstein.

Miss Virginia Pecha of Daranmore road left recently to spend several weeks as the guest of Ann Aholo of Houston, Tex.

Following her vacation in Texas, Miss Pecha will spend some time in Mexico, returning in time to resume her duties as a teacher in the Walnut Lake school.

3 West Bloomfield 4-H Club Members Attend MSU Meet

BLOOMFIELD WEST — Three members of the West Bloomfield 4-H club attended the 40th annual Michigan 4-H club week at Michigan State university, July 8-11.

Those attending from the West Bloomfield 4-H club were Lynn Thompson of Birmingham and Jeanne Mott of Walnut Lake and John Rice of E. Dartmouth road.

Mrs. Maynard Mott of Sunnycrest road accompanied the West Bloomfield group as a girls' counselor.

MORE THAN 1100 delegates, representing 37 Michigan counties, were divided into "Indian tribes." The West Bloomfield group were members of the Chippewa tribe and were delegates from Allegan, Bay, Kalamazoo and Oakland counties.

Sharon Brodie of Birmingham was a flag bearer; Jeanne Mott of the Walnut Lake area was a song leader.

All delegates and counselors made their headquarters at Shaw hall.

The program consisted of various assemblies, panel discussions, sports, lectures and a tour of the Capitol building.

Colonial Estates Social Briefs

Mrs. Loton Baskin arrived home last Sunday from a week's stay in New York city where she attended the Diamond Jubilee convention of her ladies auxiliary.

Mrs. Baskin was in charge of the registrations at the convention and was also elected to the Grand Lodge of the Ladies auxiliary to the Order of Scottish Clans in the United States and Canada.

She is a past president of a subordinate lodge in Detroit. After the installation, Mrs. Baskin entertained the delegates at lunch.

During the holiday weekend Mrs. Baskin and her son Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pinter were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Renshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Code and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones at their new cottage at Duck Lake.

Other houseguests of the Pinters are Sandra and Lynda Sherman from Ortonville, Mich. The Colonial Estates Homeowners and Property association board of directors also met at the Pinter home Tuesday.
