Thrilled Youngster

That's 14-year-old Pat Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur S. Hull, 1067 Wakefield, Birmingham. Pat recently scored the first hole-in-one by a woman in the history of Edgewood country club, Commerce township. It was the club's first all of the year. A Birmingham high sophomore this fall, Pat gets a dozen golf balls compliments of the Varsity shop, for her exceptional feat, along with "membership in The Eccentric sports department's exclusive hole-in-one club. She's member No. 3 of the year. Playing with her mother, Pat used a driver for the ace on Edgewood's 168-yard sixth hole.

Lathrup School Gets Property For Playground

SOUTHFIELD—A long hassle between Southfield's board of education and Lathrup Village founder Louise Lathrup Kelly ended Monday when the board acquired the deed to 1.5 acres of property behind Lathrup schoolyard.

The final settlement was made for $25,000 plus a 30 by 170 foot strip of school-owned property on Southfield near 10 1/2 Mile valued at $2,500.

"The property was worthless to us, but backed on land owned by Mrs. Kelly," Superintendent of School Glenn Schoenhals said, "the swap is undoubtedly to our mutual benefit."

THE BOARD had originally ordered condemnation proceedings against the unimproved lots after Mrs. Kelly refused to sell them. The court hearing the case ruled that they could be classified as commercially-zoned property and set their value at $32,000, a figure the board could not and would not match.

The new school land will be used for play area and possibly for future expansion, Schoenhals said. He added that Monterey street, an artery running between the school yard and the new addition, might be removed in the future to connect the two sections of land with a total gain of some three acres.

Businessmen Lax During Dog Days

LATHRUP—Trusting, or just absent minded?

The weather was so nice, and it was so good to be finished for the day, 11 businessmen in Lathrup's small commercial section went home during the month of June leaving their shop doors unlocked. The unprotected doors were found by the checking Lathrup police and reported.

The June police activity report to the council showed 75 violations issued; 65 for speeding, the balance for non-observance of ordinances.

A $9,000 fine revenue for a 12-month period puts the city far ahead of the estimated $6,000.

traps and of the needless killing of wild animals.

Some of these phone calls were from the neighbors of the boys publicized in The Eccentric article. These neighbors stated that they enjoy the animal life around them and find in such observations one of the joys of suburban life. The matter, then, of animal destruction is not just of interest to boys who seek 'adventure' in pitting their wits against a fox but runs counter to interests of many in the community. In other words, the total social aspect of the whole subdivision must be considered.

"ACTUALLY, the time is long past when trapping, especially in a suburban area, can be justified. Many states have within recent years abandoned their bounty systems as ineffective and wasteful. Michigan's own bounty system is, at the present time, up for re-appraisal, and it is high time that our state take its place in the ranks of those who have rescinded their bounty laws.

Two significant laws have been passed by legislatures and signed by our governors within the last fifteen years. The first of these was the Michigan wildflower protection law which protects all of our native orchids, club mosses, gentians and many other fast disappearing wildflower species. The second law, only about 3 years old, protects all species of hawks and owls, allowing any individual bird to be shot only when it can be proved that it is doing great damage to farmers' poultry.

These birds, by long study on the part of wildlife scientists, have been proved to be much more beneficial than destructive to man's interests. They are one of the great factors in the control of rodent and insect pests.

IN THE SAME LIGHT, many of our mammals, such as the fox, feed to a considerable extent on mice, rats and other destructive pests. All these creatures are a part of what the natural scientist calls "the balance of nature, and each type of creature has his place in this balance."

The institute of science and I will be happy to welcome newcomers to the institute's junior members' field trips which have been attended by several thousands of boys and girls during the past 25 years.

"TO THE MANY millions of people, from teenagers to octogenarians, who are now traveling over our vast country with their cameras, the pleasure of photographing wild creatures and the natural landscape far outweighs any pleasure that could possibly be derived from killing and destroying."

Editor's note: A copy of Dr. Nickell's letter has been forwarded to the state conservation department for possible comment.

Mermells Travel To New York City

WESTCHESTER—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mermell of Middlebury, Iowa recently returned from a short stay in New York City where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Mermell's nephew, Gerald Lakor of Detroit and Miss Elaine Cohen of New York. During the buffet supper the Mermells enjoyed sharing their table with Mayor Louis C. Mirani and his family. While there, they took in two Broadway shows, "Music Man" and "Oh, Captain!" After attending the Jack Parr show, they decided the "warm up" for the audience is better than the TV show itself.

At that point the rains came and the game had to be replayed Saturday. It was no less a high-scoring affair, but it was the Chiefs who emerged on top of a wild 12-11 slugfest. It was only the second reversal of the entire season for the Titans.

THE TITANS and Chiefs tangled last Thursday with the Titans starting off with a rut in mind, leading 10-1 with three and a half innings played.

IN THE LOWER bracket, Southfield meets Northwest Detroit next Thursday at Southfield at 5 p.m. Walled Lake drawing the lower bracket bye. That bracket's semi-final battle is set for the 26th at 4 p.m.

The finals encounter will be played Sunday, July 27, at 2 p.m. Winners of Michigan's eight Babe Ruth districts—three from the metropolitan Detroit area—will compete in the single-elimination state Ruth tournament Aug. 1-2-3 at Ypsilanti.

In another Saturday tussle, the Barons nipped the Spartans, 4-3, in the 12th inning. The Barons had scored twice in the 10th but the Spartans tied it up in the bottom of the third of five extra innings.
