Lansing Couple To Make Home In Bloomfield

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Greer Stoddard will make their home in Bloomfield Hills, following their honeymoon. Mrs. Stoddard is the former Ann Hagameir Dietrich, daughter of the Simeon Dietrichs of East Lansing. The couple exchanged wedding vows Saturday in the First Presbyterian church in Lansing.

Seven attendants in pale blue organza gowns preceded Ann down the aisle. They were Ann McGillicuddy, Mary Lind Hayhoe, Barbara Ryder, Carol Garner, Mrs. Fred Mortimore, Suzanne Bailey, and Joanna Chessman.

ANN'S BRIDAL gown was fashioned of pearl de soie, lavishly trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace designed with an oval neckline, cap sleeves and a floor length skirt that swept into a brush train.

A Juliet cap of matching alencon lace held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white baby orchids and stephanotis.

THE BRIDEGROOM is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Stoddard of East Lansing. Howard P. Stoddard attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Bruce J. Maguire, Jr., Jackson Smart, Jr., Louis Fields, Samuel Greenwall, Jr., Charles Endicott and Donald Graves.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dietrich donned a cocktail length gown of mauve pink alencon lace styled with fullness in back and a bell-shaped skirt. Mrs. Stoddard chose a waltz length gown in ice mint chiffon, designed with a full many layered skirt.
