You've seen the names of these men and women many times in the Birmingham Eccentric's popular book review columns. Now you can see their faces. There are also four new reviewers for "Books and Reviews", Byron Farwell, author of "The Man Who Presumed", and Herbert Fisher, Arthur Hinkley and Donald Yates.

Back Seat Driver May Be Beneficial

Want to live longer? Here's one method: Become buddies with that person fidgeting in the back seat of your car—or right there beside you, for that matter. "Two heads are better than one when they're behind the wheel of a car," the National Safety Council says. It believes that the so-called back-seat driver may hold the solution to the traffic accident problem. "We're in favor of motorists combining their driving knowledge and skill with the help other passengers in the car can give," the council says. IT AGREES that the term "back-seat driver" has a bad connotation. The motorist who's been subjected to nagging "advice" from the rear understandably takes a dim view of interference with his driving.

"But with the proper spirit on both sides, back-seat drivers can be a real help," the council says. How? 1. Let your wife, for example, who used to sit with nothing to do on a trip, be your copilot. Her observations—a car sneaking out from a side street, a quick turn in the road ahead—can take a big load off your mind. 2. Studies show that the irritated driver is more accident prone. The wife can help hubby cool off when he's upset over slow-moving cars or heavy traffic. 3. Giving other persons in your car something to keep them from getting bored makes the trip go faster for both of you—and keeps friction at a minimum. "IN ADDITION to her lookout duties, the back-seat driver can handle many other details to make motoring more relaxing," the council says. "Let her light up your cigarette, keep down the roar of your kids in the back seat, and chart your course. There are a thousand and one things she can do for you while you're driving. "Successful businessmen will know the value of delegating authority. Yet, behind the wheel of a car an executive will try to handle the whole job of driving—often with disastrous results. "Why do all the work, when minor parts of the job can be handled just as well by your wife?" the council asks. "Bringing the back-seat driver up front with you—in other words, giving her responsibilities on a trip—eases your job of driving. "It may save a life—yours, or the life of the back-seat driver who used to get on your nerves."

There should be no justification for retaining the haunting memory of having done a wrong in the past. Providence forgives when one ceases to do a wrong. When one ceases such wrong-doing then one should be able to forget—with, of course, the further help of a forgiving Providence. What God always does do, shouldn't mankind try? TRUTH exclaims: "Yes!"
