
Road-E-O Winner

Three-time Indianapolis Speedway winner Mauri Rose reads the inscription on the plaque to Teen-Age Road-E-O winner Bob Haeffner, 1441 Cedar Bend, Bloomfield township. Rose helped judge Saturday's event which saw Haeffner defeat 24 other young contestants. He now is eligible for the state contest. Birmingham Jaycees conducted the local event, which for the first time featured several other spectator attractions—displays, exhibits, models and movies from major auto companies and sports car clubs. Verne Haagenstad (behind Haeffner) was Road-E-O general chairman. The state Road-E-O will be held Saturday in Detroit. (Photo by Fred Anderson).

'All or Nothing' Decision Seems In the Making

Division of resident interest on improvement of Lakepark for the block south of Redding also has divided the potential action of the city commission regarding a $2400 storm sewer for the north half of the block.

So the commission postponed for a week its decision on necessity of the sewer until three commissioners, absent Monday night, can be present.

Four affirmative votes are needed to approve necessity. Mayor Pro Tem Harry M. Denyes said his feeling were with those residents who want a complete improvement —sewer and curbs and paving.

OTHER RESIDENTS, however, want little or nothing done of an expensive nature.

Only point on which everyone seems to agree is it would be nice to eliminate some water which ponds about mid-block.

2 Churches Here to Have New Ministers

Two Birmingham churches will soon have new ministers, it was announced this week. The re-assignment of the Rev. Reginald Becker, pastor of Bird Methodist church, Birmingham, was announced at the 117th Detroit annual conference of the Methodist church Sunday in Flint. At the same time the Rev. Samuel F. Stout, who was ordained at the conference, was assigned to replace Mr. Becker here.

Due to the resignation of the Rev. Russell L. Lincoln to accept a call to a southern California Unitarian church, the Unitarian church of Birmingham voted Sunday to call the Rev. Walter Pedersen, currently of Cleveland, O., to serve as its minister.

Rev. Becker is being transferred to Calvary Methodist church, Holly, Mich., where he will preach his first sermon Sunday. He recently completed ten years here.

MR. STOUT IS the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Stout, of Royal Oak, and was graduated this month from a theological seminary.

Mr. Pedersen has held Unitarian pastorates in New England, and most recently has been leader of the Cleveland ethical society, a group closely allied to Unitarian thought.

He begins his connection here Aug. 22.

Want Parking Retained on S. Woodward

Why does the state highway department insist that parking be taken off the west side of Woodward for 200 feet north of Lincoln?

That's what city officials and several S. Woodward businessmen are trying to find out this week.

The state set this stipulation if a divider strip is to be extended further south to the US-10-Woodward-Lincoln intersection.

ADMITTEDLY a desirable means of getting traffic to merge more safely, the longer divider shouldn't make it necessary to remove parking on the Woodward portion, the city feels.

The state is ready to start the intersection's remodelling any time now, City Manager L. R. Gare informed the commission.

county's library system, recognized nationally for his experience in establishing branch library services in areas remote from a central library; and

Harold Martell, librarian at Wyandotte's Bacon memorial library, operated as a department of the Wyandotte school system.

EMPHASIZED Kaiser: "It's physically impossible to continue here in Birmingham with only the books, building and services you have presently."

He said he thought the library should not charge for its services.

"It should be free to all who wish to use it, yet they should bear a fair share of the library's costs," Kaiser said. This should be done, in his opinion, by the user's municipality.

MARTELL SAID there was no better time for municipalities to combine for expanded and improved library service.

"And you don't need to start off with a big expansion program either," Martell said. Quarters can be rented until the building program has been determined."

Now that the area study committee has determined there is a definite interest in an area library facility, the citizens committee's legal, financial, and physical plant committees will evaluate their aspects of the program.

WHILE PRESENT state law permits two or more municipal units to combine for area service, it does not allow funds to be raised for construction of branch libraries or additions to main libraries, Gilray said.

This is an oversight in the law's passage, and would need correction, he said.

Among those attending the meeting were Birmingham library board members Charles Kass, Ann Miller, James Tobin, and Mrs. Oliver Rodgers; Birmingham City Commissioners Florence Willett, Harry Denyes and Charles Renfrew; Birmingham City Manager L. R. Gare; Assistant Manager Robert Kenning; Franklin Friends of the Library President H. G. Heideman; Westwood Councilman Robert Reed; Bloomfield Hills board of Education President Merrill O. Bates; and Hills board of Education members-elect Mrs. Jean B. Martz and Max Miller.

An 1870 law empowering the president to use troops to enforce civil rights decrees of the federal courts has been nullified by Senate vote.

A PUBLIC hearing was set for July 8 for the paving of Linda lane. Kephart estimated the cost at $6,600 to be split equally among 12 property owners with the city paying 10 per cent. The commission also approved taking over Epping lane as far as property owners were willing.

Permission for a sign for a Shell Oil station under construction at Woodward and Long Lake road was held up pending revision of the sign ordinance. City Attorney William Hartman was asked to have a draft of the new ordinance ready for next month's meeting.

Dr. Harley J. Robinson was given until July 1 to remove patients from Braw-Burn annex, which was cited as a nonconforming use for the building. A previous 90-day extension to vacate, expires this week.

The commission approved a change-over in the city's employee insurance program from straight life to a paid up policy retirement plan with costs to be shared by the employees and the city.

Youth Sentenced To 2 to 14 Years

After pleading guilty to charges of uttering and publishing, Peter Orlando, Jr., 24, of 2488 Yorkshire, Birmingham, was sentenced last week to two to 14 years in Jackson prison.

Judge H. Russel Holland pronounced the sentence after hearing the case in which Orlando admitted signing someone else's name to a Royal Oak gas station's charge account.

Orlando served time in Jackson prison previously for passing a bad check.

Counting Noses

Completing a traffic engineering course last weekend at Michigan State university in East Lansing was Lt. Robert Schaule (center), of the Birmingham police department. With Schaule is Sgt. Frank A. Boyers, Jackson police, (left) and Beryl Langford, course instructor. The week-long study in traffic engineering and controls was sponsored by the MSU school of police administration, the highway traffic safety center, and continuing education service. The men are shown conducting a volume count of pedestrians and vehicles at an East Lansing intersection.
