

Auger Cup Goes To Jill Shallcross

The highest scholastic honor which Kingswood school Cranbrook can bestow upon a student is the Margaret A. Auger cup. This year the coveted award went to Jill Shallcross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. West, Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills.

The cup, named for Kingswood's first headmistress, was presented by the faculty to Jill for her outstanding record in achieving and maintaining the highest academic average in the school.

Eighteen-year old Jill is a senior, and will graduate this coming weekend. During the past year she served as president of Kingswood's student council.

THIS FALL she will attend Radcliff college, from which she also received special recognition when Radcliff awarded her an honorary scholarship.

Magazine Features Hills High Choir

The Bloomfield Hills high school choir is featured in an article in this month's issue "The School Musicians." The magazine carries an article and picture on the choir and the school, and also on the director, Clarence A. Luchtman.

The school has scheduled its summer choral clinic for July 14-26. Students in grades 9-12, including next fall's n-t-h graders, are eligible.

In Tuesday's assembly Kingswood's French department awarded certificates for excellence in French to Carolyn Vogt, first year; Sue Hapke, second year; Sally Waddell, third year, and Jill Shallcross, fourth year. At the same assembly the American Association of Teachers of French gave medals to three Kingswood girls who placed second in the metropolitan Detroit area in the annual French examinations. They were Jane Miley, first year; Kristine Gilmartin, second year; and Anne Sanders, third year.

At assembly Thursday morning, Miss Grace Fry, assistant headmistress of the school, awarded the Auger Cup and scholarship pins to the three seniors with the highest scholastic achievement. Pins were presented to Caroline Cross, Joly Fredrickson, Anne Sanders and Libby Wolfe. The cup was won by Jill Shallcross.

Friday, June 6, was K-day. Sportsmanship trophies were given to Sandy Adamson for the seventh and eighth grades, Joan Akers for the ninth and 10th grades and Ellen Guest for the 11th and 12th. Nancy Trepenza won the McLean hockey trophy. The Ellen Wallace tennis cup went to Susan Flint.

Kirk-in-the-Hills church, spoke at the baccalaureate services last Sunday. Due to the fire which caused extensive damage to the Kirk last year, the ceremony was held in the high school auditorium. Following the ceremony Sue Jesson served dinner to the senior class and members of the faculty, with swimming at their Sodon Lake beach home.

Bloomfield Hills Billboard

By ANDREE GALLAUDET and SUE SUNDBERG

Ten Birmingham high school students, all members of the national honor society, came to Bloomfield Hills last Wednesday to install a new chapter in our school. Members are based upon academic service, character and scholarship. Four of the visiting students spoke on each of these topics. After the announcement of the members they repeated the Honor Society pledge before the student body and their parents. Richard Spiess, principal, presented them with certificates of merit and membership cards. A reception was given for the parents, faculty and new members following the ceremony.

Seniors initiated into the honor society were Janet Morrison, Barb Miller, Joan Van de Meer, Andy Gallaudet and Liz Johnson. The juniors included Bonnie Taylor, Laurel Kinbrough, Howard Kitchell, Barb van Dyk, Larry Erdman, Bobbie Irvine, Tom Ode, John Markley, Shirley Smith, Pat Johnson, Lucy Barnes, Bill Rosevear, Louise Liu, Phillenore Brummond and Sandy Nunnely.

The Honors assembly was held at BHHS to present the yearly awards to the students. After the athletic awards were presented with the scholastic awards. Receiving college scholarships were Dan Miller, Penny Hill and Judy Sterling. Liz Johnson received an award for her outstanding scholastic achievements and because of the interest they have shown in making engineering and science their career. They were nominated by their high school teachers as a result of proven scholastic ability and because they possessed the personal qualifications required for success in the engineering profession.

B'ham Senior Gets Award

Richard N. Boyd, 969 S. Glenhurst, Birmingham, senior at Birmingham high school, was among 84 honor students who are graduating from Detroit area high schools will receive certificates of merit at the Engineering Society of Detroit 11th annual high school awards program recently.

These students were selected for the award because of their outstanding scholastic achievements and because of the interest they have shown in making engineering and science their career. They were nominated by their high school teachers as a result of proven scholastic ability and because they possessed the personal qualifications required for success in the engineering profession.

THE STUDENTS were honored at a luncheon at the Engineering Society of Detroit headquarters in the Rackham educational memorial building. Featured speaker was Dr. David V. Ragone, assistant professor of metallurgical engineering, the University of Michigan, and 1957 winner of the Engineering Society of Detroit's "outstanding young engineer" award.

The awards were presented by William Graves, president of the Engineering Society of Detroit and professor of automotive engineering, the University of Michigan.

DATLINE DERBY

By TOM WOODWORTH

Derby's ninth graders held their graduation dance Friday night. There was dancing on the court and refreshments in the cafeteria. The refreshments were served by the mothers and fathers who were chaperoning. Many of the boys wore Bermuda shorts with long socks while the girls wore semi-formal and formal dresses.

Derby's track teams completed an unbeaten seven-meet season in June 4 by beating Burton school in their last meet of the year. The Roseville school has an excellent team this year and was unbeaten up to last Wednesday's meet.

Friday morning a meeting of the Derby chapter of the national junior honor society was held in the auditorium. The purpose of this meeting was to present pins and scrolls to those Derby students who had been previously elected to the society.

Election of officers for next year was held. Patzy Mason directed the election as chairman. Both the eighth and ninth graders voted on the nominees, which were picked from the eighth grade. The officers for next year are Bob Kennedy, president; Frank Green, vice-president; Sue McClathran, treasurer, and Sandy Erwin, secretary.

received an award for doing outstanding work in Math and Dick Johnson received the annual science award.

Sue Boyd was honored as the outstanding senior of the year and Nancy Smith, the valedictorian was given the Wells college award.

A pre-baccalaureate tea was given by Bonnie Gieses of Vaughan road on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Harold DeWitt, pastor of
