Donald Nanrys Entertain Houseguests for Weekend

The Donald Nanry's of Norwich road spent a busy holiday weekend. They had as their houseguests Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tucker and children, Karen and Leigh Ellen, who motored here from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Festivities began Friday with a picnic grill-out. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walby, Mr. and Mrs. George Giles, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Thomas. The group also included 26 children.

On Saturday the Nanrys and Tucker were invited to the home of John E. Nanry in Ann Arbor for cocktails before attending a dinner-dance.

A birthday celebration for Lynn Nanry, 9, wound up the activities on Sunday. Joining in on the birthday fun were sisters and brothers Karen, Jack and twins Pat and Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kleene, 1872 Derby, had their houseguests over the holiday weekend. Kleene's brother Fritz Kleene from Honolulu.

Highlight of the weekend was a family cocktail and dinner party on Saturday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kleene of Grosse Pointe. They also celebrated the Jack Kleene's 11th wedding anniversary. The men spent a day at the Western open golf tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mulhern of Brookhaven road have had as their houseguests for the past two weeks Mrs. John R. Peterson and children Kathy and Michael from Dallas, Tex.

During Mrs. Peterson's visit Mrs. Mulhern entertained friends at her annual "last choice before school" dessert bridge.

Guests were Max, John J. Raymond, Mrs. George V. Hillbrand, Mrs. Joseph J. Doick, Mrs. Ralph P. Cowan, Mrs. J. H. Savage, Jr., Mrs. William C. Birney, Mrs. Harry P. Jowarski, Mrs. Richard J. Duncke, Mrs. Edward J. Delehaney and Mrs. Charles Doherty.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sonthemer and daughter Julie, 2009 L'embroke, spent Memorial day weekend with Mrs. Sonthemer's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond W. Booth of Grand Rapids. In as much as the Sonthemer's wedding anniversary falls on Memorial day and Booth was newly elected mayor of Grand Rapids, the two couples enjoyed a dual celebration.

Mrs. William Simpson, 1889 Derby, entertained her monthly bridge club in her home last week.

Present for the dessert bridge were Mrs. Coyle Fisher, Mrs. Carl Greene, Mrs. John Kleene, Mrs. Richard Monteth, Mrs. Allan Diebold, Mrs. Claude Phelps, Mrs. Edward Gabert, Mrs. Donald Taylor, Mrs. Franklin Bens and Mrs. James Germanson.

Very appropriately, the Graefield home extension club has a lesson on "outdoor cooking" for their May meeting.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. M. W. Irvin, 1614 Wilberbe. Mrs. Leonard Horton was in charge of the lesson. She demonstrated how to build the fire and where to place it in the grill. Her talk was filled with hints on making outdoor cooking easier as well as tasty. Recipe booklets were given to members and guests. Following the lesson, Mrs. Chet Wroclowski and Mrs. Howard Norman served refreshments.

A proud father on April 24 was Donald Sengstaken when his daughter, Shelley Jean, was born on his birthday. The Sengstakens with their other children Nancy, 8, and Bruce 7, live at 1712 Derby.

Mrs. Sengstaken's mother, Mrs. Mildred White from Port Washington, N. Y., was in town to help with the chores. Other visitors were Sengstaken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sengstaken from Plandome, N. Y.

A trip to South Bend, Ind., was taken recently by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ross and Douglas, 3, of Brookhaven road.

While there, they were the houseguests of Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. J. Edward Kindig, and were entertained by many friends and relatives before flying home.

brate her seventh birthday. Enjoying dinner and games were Linda and Sandra Webb, Nancy Sengstaken, Pamela Peirce, Hopner Hanson and Tommy Van Zorel. Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oldani, 1577 Derby.

St. Ann's hall at Holy Name church was the final meeting place of St. Helena's guild. Hostesses were Mrs. Joseph Kaufman and Mrs. William Andrews.

The business meeting was conducted first and ended with a decision to hold a new membership luncheon at Devon Gables Sept. 16 for interested parties in their area. Highlight of the meeting was the guest speaker, Mrs. Anthony D'Agostino, 984 Rivewood, who showed slides of her recent trip around the world with especially beautiful slides of India.

Enjoying an evening of dessert and bridge at the home of Mrs. Roland Sawdy, 1581 Brooklawn, were Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Robert Gorman, Mrs. Alfred Krueger, Mrs. Paul O'Reilly, Mrs. Donald Martin, Mrs. William Hammond and Mrs. Stan Trevilliam.

Troyton Manor held their final meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Judson Decker, 1112 Brooklawn with Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. Leo Clougherty acting as co-hostesses.

President Mrs. Richard Morrison conducted the business meeting and planned the agenda for the coming year. The women held a successful bake sale in the Troyton manor area as their first project.

Members present were Mrs. James Carey, Mrs. Richard Monley, Mrs. Robert Kaufman, Mrs. Clyde Mulhern, Mrs. Hugh Soufy and Mrs. Harry Barnes.

Others attending were Mrs. Robert Gorman, Mrs. Donald Nanry, Mrs. Maurice Baumant, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Maurice Reardon and Mrs. Robert Distler.

Birthdays are a lot of fun when you are able to invite your friends over as Lynn Oldani did to cele-
