Staying home during your vacation this summer? Why not spend this leisure time learning to fly? A schedule can be set up which will allow you to be well on your way toward a Private Pilota license. Pilot's license.

Come out for a lesson in the morning, another after lunh, and a third during the early evening and in a surprisingly short time you will be soloing. After some solo practice you'll go on short trips, fars' with your instructor then by yourself, learning to find your way around the country.

Your own good sense will tell you that this is the best possible way to learn—in frequent, closely spaced lessons, and our safe, easy to fly, training planes will help you to rapidly achieve your goal of a Private Pilot's license. Taking flying lessons will make this the most fascinating vacation you've ever known, and next year, as a qualified pilot, you can take off with family or friends for vacation lands never before
