

Coffee Cup Case Closed

"The case of the unmarked coffee cup" has been solved by teachers at Walnut Lake school. Seems that the teacher's lounge was equipped with coffee making facilities and an unwritten rule to wash and polish the cups after using them. But invariably a dirty cup would be found and no clues to its owner...

Road Funds Exceed Hopes Of Westwood

WESTWOOD — Robert Reed, head of the village council road committee, told the council Monday that the village would be in a better position to maintain the network of roads than originally thought. Because Southfield township and the village were able to cooperate in using a home count as a basis for getting division of state funds returns in lieu of having a special census, the highway authorities have accepted the same census figures, he said.

Scout Sign No Exception Exactly

FRANKLIN — Village President Grant Siver Monday told Richard Ford, the village marshal, to enforce zoning laws limiting signs. Ford asked the council about signs put up by five real estate firms. The council agreed that offenders should be given five days to remove non-conforming signs. This applies also to a large banner across Franklin road advertising the Franklin Boy Scouts picnic supper.
