

Lakepark Sewer—Or Paving, Too?

Lakepark residents and city commissioners in the next four weeks will decide whether a half a permanent street improvement is better than none.

Monday night they considered a storm sewer's construction for the half block south of Bedding. It would remove much of the water which puddles midway in the block. A public hearing on the 500-foot storm sewer was adjourned to June 9 so the engineering department can estimate costs and draw detailed plans.

Majority of residents involved want the sewer, some fewer expressed consent to have their

Paul E. Kurth Named President Of B'ham C of C

The Birmingham Chamber of Commerce board of directors last week elected Paul E. Kurth, owner of Huston hardware, as its president for 1958-59.

Other new officers are Wayne N. Mortimer, owner of Mortimer's men's store, vice-president; Arthur J. Eake, of Lake Jewelers, treasurer; and Aaron Kershenbaum, of Kay Baum's, assistant treasurer.

Street curbed and paved as well. It's a well publicized fact the city prefers to install complete permanent projects whenever possible.

Their Business Is a Pleasure

The happy smiles on these Birmingham area residents who are members of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce appeared as they were about to leave for the board's eighth annual international trade tour. From left are Charles B. DeVlieg, 1490 Lockridge; S. A. Carter, 1585 Lone Pine; Everett H. Wells, 581 Bennington, all of Bloomfield Hills; Charles M. Bauervic, 1471 Glenarry, Birmingham; Paul Canstein, 4320 Telegraph, Bloomfield Hills; Robert Taggart, 320 N. Williamsbury, Birmingham, and William A. Afts, 2775 W. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills. They were among the 52 who left last week on a 33-day European tour which includes meetings with foreign government and business officials and a visit to the World's Fair in Brussels.

Hills B of E Race Draws Five Candidates

Five candidates had filed for two Bloomfield Hills board of education vacancies by the deadline Saturday. Two will be voted into office in a school election June 9 to replace Karl E. Scott and Robert H. Hoffman, who are not candidates for re-election.

Added to the list of Jean Martz (Mrs. Lawrence S.), Max Miller and Victor S. Farrah, whose candidacies were announced in last week's Eccentric, are Fred Korzon and Clarion E. Cooke.

Korzon, 34, of 3800 Lakeland lane, is a residential builder. A resident of the district for eight years, he has three children, two in Hills schools. He is an elder of Our Shepherd Lutheran church, Birmingham, and its building committee chairman. He is seeking public office for the first time.

Cooke, 31, of 1245 Cederholm lane, has lived in the area three years. His five children all will be enrolled in Hills schools this fall. A painting contractor, he is running for public office for the first time.

Mrs. Martz and Miller are seeking the school board seats as a team. Both have been active in the Wing Lake area and in PTO work.

Miller, 44, of 7410 Franklin road, has lived in the district 10 years. He is president of the high school PTO and past president of Wing Lake PTO and has been a member of the PTO council for two years. He has four children, three in Hills schools and one at Stanford university.

since 1942. By June all three of her children will have been graduated from Hills schools. Mrs. Martz has served for six years on the board of the Oakland county child guidance clinic and was its president last year.

She was chairman of the state advisory committee to the department of mental health education. She is a member of Birmingham Village Players, Detroit Women Writers club, and was among this group which reactivated the Wing Lake PTO several years ago.

Farrah, 34, of 7410 W. Greenway, has lived in the area five years. He has two pre-school children. An assistant accountant at Kirk in the Hills, he is commercial sales manager for an automotive dealer.

Named to Court

Dick Keeler of Birmingham was recently elected to the student court at Wittenberg college. He is very active on the campus. Dick was president of his Phi Gamma Delta pledge class, a member of the Interfraternity pledge council and a member of the senate elections committee.

Hills Building Down Sharply

Building has fallen off sharply in Bloomfield Hills, City Clerk Robert L. Stadler reported to the Commission Tuesday.

So far this year, only five single residence permits have been issued. Last year 14 had been issued. A total of 25 permits was issued in 1957. In 1956 there were 53.

New Unit Blessed

New construction at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital was blessed Saturday morning by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Eugene E. Faddock, dean of the Northwestern deanery and pastor of Holy Name church.

The new unit will be opened ready to receive patients Sunday. It houses a 30-bed nursing station and a new power plant.

Elected V.P.

John M. Small, of 6800 N. Clunbury, Birmingham, has been elected vice president, treasurer and a director of Detroit Power Screwdriver company, subsidiary of Link-Belt company. Small joined the firm in 1938 and was plant superintendent when elected to his new offices.

New Great Books Group to Start Here This Fall

A new great books discussion group being formed in Birmingham will begin meetings next October at Birmingham Community House.

The two-hour sessions on alternate Thursdays, will discuss new reading at each meeting. To register for the tuition-free group, applicants should call evenings to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kettle, of 4515 Barnley, Birmingham, moderators of the group. Mrs. James Worley, coordinator of the great books program, of 666 W. Maplehurst, Ferndale, is also accepting registrations.

Membership is open to all adults, and there are no formal educational requirements.

Another Birmingham great books group is now in its third year, meeting for discussion at Baldwin public library.
