Boy Scout Troop Returns From 2-day Camping Trip

The boy scouts of Harlan school troop B-34 and their dads enjoyed an exciting two days camping at Waterloo recreation area at Cedar lake last weekend.

The boys and dads boarded a bus at the school laden down with their cooking utensils, blankets, sleeping bags, clothes and extras Friday.

On the first night dads holding down the reins were Glick Barbosa, Robert Wallace, Gene Quack-enbush and Fred Cornett. The troop scout master, Richard Kingswood and Charles Esler, arrived at camp early Saturday to put the 15 boys through their paces.

Among the activities planned for Saturday were instructions on trail markers, trapping animals and map reading. Following the lessons the group went on a hike, reading their own maps as they went. Other activities were baseball, nature hikes, and tests on scouting requirements.

Saturday night the crew ate the stew that was had made by campfire with gusto.

Fresh reinforcements coming on Saturday to take over were Paul Graham, Charles Bethel, Ken Brooker and Jack Kinscot. During the evening each patrol put on a skit as their part of the entertainment program.

The group arrived home on Sunday, with a few sore muscles and a little weary, but with a rich experience under their belts.

Recent houseguests at the Paul Johnston home on Bolingbroke drive were Mr. and Mrs. Burton E. Green of Hamburg, N. Y. During the Greens visit, dinner parties were planned to include the Fred Foresters of Grosse Pointe Park and the Frank Woods of Redford township.

Committees at Eastover school are hustling and bustling these days making ready for the East-over Big Top fair May 24.

Winners of the "Name the Poster" contest on May 2 included Amy Argh, first grade; Marilyn Altman, second grade; Dennis Balogh, third grade; Debbie Rogers, fourth grade and Debbie Clark, fifth grade.

The winners received 20 tickets to the fair except Marilyn Altman who won an additional 40 tickets for being the all school winner. Linda Carnegie, Pamela Davison and Vicki Hirschfeld, each won 10 tickets for their posters.

Judges were Mrs. C. Allen Harlan of North Adams road and Mrs. Mattie Harville of Pontiac.

Mrs. Hilbert Hirschfeld hosted a coffee for 30 in her Ebreby drive home May 7. The group were all committee workers completing last minute details for the Eastover Big Top fair.

Mrs. Donald Smith of Oakhill drive found the May 3 calendar to be a full one. She and the Arthur McDonalds of Birmingham motored to Ann Arbor to attend the Delta Gamma alumnae, XI chapter, at the sorority house in the morning. Before attending a reunion in the afternoon, she had lunch with her son, Ross, at the Phi Gamma Delta house.

There was just enough time to return home to attend the Delta Gamma Alumnae spring dance at Orchard Lake country club. Another North Adams couple attending the dance were the Howard Estes, Jr. of Beech road.

The Joseph Paulicks of Tubbury lane flew to Florida for 10 days with the Wally Gabelers of Royal Oak recently.

Much of their stay was spent at the Cherry Frontenac in Miami. The weather was ideal for swimming but the high wind postponed their deep sea fishing trips until next year. They dined at many famous restaurants and strolled in interesting shops. Highlighting their trip was an evening spent at the Eaton Row.

After a short stay at home the Paulicks left for Philadelphia, for a four-day visit. They were guests of the Jules Heits while there and attended the tool show.

The Lavon Frys of North Adams road attended the wedding of a nephew, Philip Fry to Miss Carol Raabe in Toledo, Ohio, May 3.
