

How refreshing it is to be with a person who quietly, calmly, and in apparent contentment, so departs himself in your presence. He is like a gentle, cooling breeze on a warm summer evening. He brings to you evidence that here, right now, in the midst of this madly scampering 20th Century society, one may enjoy the world—however small—in which he moves and has his being.

FRANKLIN'S Judy Winchell in a brown plaid taffeta with a basque waist and hoop skirt, which she will model Tuesday in the Goodwill fashion show sponsored by Birmingham WNFCA.

IN MODERN DAY ATTIRE Pamela Wyatt inspects a gown made in Paris around the turn of the century of white faille trimmed with gold embroidery and satin ribbon and worn by her mother, Mrs. Joseph H. Wyatt. Sister Wendy Jo will model a white china silk made with lace insertions and hand feather stitching.

Suburban Setting

The ball moved to the suburbs . . . and their first formal swing was preceded by dinner parties for groups of youngsters attending Florence Schoolfield Young's May Dance party Friday at the Community house.

John French invited seven other 11-year-olds to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. French on Lahser road, Bloomfield Hills.

His dinner guests included Mitt Romney and Ingrid Anderson, John Liles and Alyson Clark, Peter Draper and Debbie Yager and his own "date" Judy Lim.

John Florez's guests for dinner included Ann Russell, Jane Hubbard and Tom McKenney, Mimi Judd and Bobby Stevenson and Kris Knudsen and Jim Dawson. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Florez of Tottenham road.

Sandra MacPherson also had a dinner party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl MacPherson of Merrimac court, Bloomfield Hills. Her guests included Paul Ricard, Carol Olmsted and Jeff Howard, Mary Jo Southwell and Dean Buchanan.

Although the dance and recital were held separately, the ballerinas were not forgotten. They had their very own fancy party, costumes and all, climaxed by a "pink tea" at Rosedale Park clubhouse.

Candlelight Ball

The Candlelight Ball, with grace and old world charm the keynote, will be the Junior Women's association for the Detroit Symphony orchestra's annual party offering for the spring season. The event will be staged June 7 in the huge Italian Renaissance home of Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott Gibson, of Grosse Pointe.

Party plans were announced as invitations were placed in the mail by Mrs. Edmund C. Bision of Southfield township, association president, and Mrs. Cornelius N. Ray, III, ball chairman.

Invitation and patron committee members from the Birmingham area include Mrs. Robert E. Cain, Mrs. Ralph G. Hesler and Mrs. Willard W. Wicklund.

Miniature Grads Deck Table

A miniature diploma in the hands of a doll dressed in traditional cap and gown, complete with academic hood, will grace the tea table at Botsford Inn Sunday, when the alumnae of Morcy college receive this year's graduating class.

Birmingham area residents joining the ranks are Elizabeth Klepaczyk of Amherst, Mrs. Jane M. Geisler Rogers of North Telegraph, Mrs. Dolores Geisler Rengers of Wing Lake road and Mrs. Mary Ann Campbell of South Eton road.

Honor Engaged Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hupp of Bloomfield Hills entertained at a family champagne punch party and buffet supper Sunday evening honoring Patricia Hupp Before and John Fleming, who are being married in August. Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moss and John's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Flemings of East Surrey, Foxcroft.

Color scheme was in pink and white with dainty cakes bearing the inscription of Pat and John.

Toasting the young couple were Mrs. George Hupp, Mr. and Mrs. John Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hupp and Mrs. Robert Hupp.

Barbara Zeder Wears Brussels Lace Mantilla

A formal length mantilla veil purchased in Brussels in 1953 by her mother and her mother-in-law worn by Barbara Elizabeth Zeder for her marriage to Myron Bedell Brookfield Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. Robert L. DeWitt officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony.

The bell-shaped skirt of her ivory peau-de-soie gown fell into a court train. A scooped neckline and abbreviated sleeves accented the re-embroidered lace bodice with cabbage roses at the back of the waist falling on flaps over the skirt. She carried a cascade of white cabbage roses and ivy.

Both of Birmingham, carried bouquets of gerbera and ivy.

HOWARD W. DWYER was best man.

PARENTS of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Churchill Zeder of Orchard Ridge road, Bloomfield Hills, and the Thomas William Brookfields of New Hartford, Conn.

For her daughter's wedding, and reception following at Bloomfield Hills Country club, Mrs. Zeder wore heavenly blue gros-de-londre made on princess lines swirling to a large pouf on the side with lace insets in the bodice of re-embroidered imported lace. Her tiny hat was made of white gros-grain bows and her flowers were white orchids.

Mrs. Brookfield's gown was sea mist green peau de soie made along princess lines with a large pouf on the side. With her beige accessories she wore a small hat made of leaves and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Ushers were George R. Bartlett, Jr., Joseph M. Hammond, Richard P. Sharpe, James C. Zeder, Jr., and Richard H. Zeder.

To start her honeymoon to Bermuda, the new Mrs. Brookfield donned a beige silk shantung dress and matching hat with fruit decorating the brim. Upon returning they will make their home in Westfield, N. J.

MRS. MYRON B. BROOKFIELD

CORAL street length sheaths of pure silk chiffon will feature back panels forming harem hems at the hips were worn by the bridal attendants. Matching veils with lace formed a bow in front at the waist and extending over the shoulders. Headpieces were of coral silk taffeta with floral trim.

Mrs. Richard P. Sharpe of Bloomfield Hills was matron of honor and carried fashionette roses and ivy. Bridesmaids, Mrs. George R. Bartlett, Jr., sister of the groom, of Walden, N. Y., Mrs. Richard L. Lesia and Margaret von Rosen.

Nicholas Redfield, Ellen Pearson To Wed in Summer

The Rev. Lawrence W. Pearson and Mrs. Pearson of San Diego, Calif., have made known the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Elizabeth, to Nicholas Redfield. He is the son of Mrs. Max H. Fruhauf of Cobble court, Bloomfield Hills and the late Harold Redfield.

The future bride is an alumna of the Annie Wright Seminary in Tacoma, Wash., and a student at the University of Michigan. The Rev. Pearson was on the staff of Christ Church Cranbrook for several years before going to Seattle, Wash. The Pearsons moved to San Diego in 1956.

Her fiance graduated from Cranbrook school and the University of Michigan. He will enter Wayne University Medical school in September.

The wedding is planned for late summer and will take place in Ann Arbor.

Maplebrook Meeting Village Players Name Royal Vote For Improvements

Members of the Maplebrook branch of WNFCA will hear Ray Hensstock, director of Detroit garden center, discuss perennials and shrubbery for the new home May 28 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. H. Turner, 327 S. Glogauway road, Birmingham. Mrs. J. DeCook is co-hostess.

Included in the $15,000 expenditure for new seats and improvements to their playhouse, the Village Players of Birmingham last week elected Herbert F. Royal, 845 Pilgrim, Birmingham, as 1958-59 president.

Included in the $15,000 expenditure is replacement of theatre seats with new cushioned, folding chairs. Work to be done inside the playhouse this summer includes widening of the stage, an addition at the rear, new stage flooring, and a new light switchboard.

The amateur theatrical group also voted to reduce the initiation fee for junior members, age 21 to 25.

Named to the board at last week's election were Mrs. Thomas H. Adams, Mrs. William L. Martin, Stanley Gillen and Bill McCall.

Accepted at Mills

Accepted to Mills college California are Elizabeth Gillen, Susan Flint, and Patricia Thompson, all from the Birmingham area.

'Fashion Fads and Fancies'

Annual spring luncheon of the Birmingham Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday at the Community House will feature "Fashion Fads and Fancies", a delightful show presented by Goodwill Industries. Everything from ludicrous bathing suits to beautiful ball gowns will step from pages of the family album, and music of the era will bring nostalgic memories as pretty models show what grandma wore. Models will include Judy Winchell of Bloomington drive, Franklin, Mrs. Joseph H. Wyatt and daughters, Wendy Jo, and Pamela, 1447 Dorchester, Birmingham. Mrs. Helen Kopka, promotion director of Goodwill and producer and commentator of the show, says all the clothing modeled has come in the Goodwill bags through the years. Household discards sent to Goodwill give job training and employment to handicapped people.

Floyd Starr, Guest Speaker

May 29 will be the date for the spring luncheon and annual meeting of South Oakland Auxiliary to Starr Commonwealth for Boys to be at 12:15 at Orchard Lake Country club. Principal speaker will be Floyd Starr, founder of the school, which is celebrating its 45th anniversary this year.

Mrs. Otto Baur, president, will present Mr. Starr with a check representing proceeds from the recent card party and the patron gifts. This money will be used for much needed athletic equipment and help in administering a new intra-mural athletic program being set up at the school this summer.

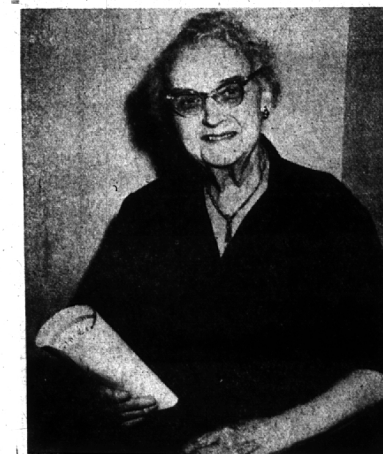

Election will be for slate of officers and directors for the coming year. Mrs. Frank Krenich, newly appointed area chairman, who represents the school here and in Detroit, will have on display handcraft work made by the boys.

Name Hills Woman Administrator

Dr. Dorothy M. Perry of North Pemberton, Bloomfield Hills, was named girls' administrator, a newly created position in the Detroit schools, at the recent Detroit Board meeting. Dr. Perry will assume her new duties July 1. She is currently supervisor of language arts in the Detroit schools.

She serves as part-time instructor at the University of Detroit and Wayne State university. She is the author of numerous professional publications, including "The Enjoyment of Poetry in the Elementary Schools," 1957.

80 Years—Plus

MRS. WINNIFRED RAINEY
Certificate Winner

80-YEAR-OLD Mrs. Winnifred Rainey beams happily after receiving a gold certificate from Birmingham chapter 220, OES, for 50 years membership and in appreciation of the loyal service rendered to the chapter. Mrs. Rainey came to Birmingham as a bride in 1906. She and her husband, the late Dr. John M. Rainey, joined the star in 1908. She was made a life member about 15 years ago. Born in Bloomfield township, Mrs. Rainey lived most of her early life in the old farmhouse situated on Maple, between Lahser and Oakland Hills country club. She and her sister, Mrs. Grace Rainey, share the home at 288 Oakland, Birmingham. Besides belonging to the OES, she is a member of the First Methodist church, Birmingham Woman's club and Franklin Cemetery auxiliary. "The latter I wouldn't miss for anything, it's sorta like a family reunion or old fashioned wedding supper," comments Mrs. Rainey.

MRS. KATE BATES
England Bound

86-YEAR-OLD Mrs. Kate Bates whiles away the time knitting as she waits for May 29th to roll around. On that date she will set sail from New York aboard the United States for England where she will spend six months with her sister's families, the Alf Browns and the C. Clarks in Tunbridge Wells, Kent. She will leave Birmingham Tuesday with her grandson, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Pivitt, Jr., who will drive her to N. Y. Mrs. Bates came to this country in 1921 and has lived in the Birmingham area for 30 years. She will be 86 years old tomorrow and will celebrate at a family dinner Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Pivitt. Other daughters present will be Mrs. Edridge M. Kruger, 976 Bird, with whom she makes her home, and Mrs. Foster Toothacker. All four of them became citizens last year. Mrs. Bates spends most of her pastime in making afghans for the vets . . . having made six last year, and sewing on cancer pads at the Community House each Friday where she is a member of the Senior Workshop.

St. Dunstan Names New Board

St. Dunstan will have his day! This was one of the issues which arose at the annual meeting of the players group which has taken its name from the patron saint of the arts and crafts. It was decided to continue the practice of holding the annual meeting on St. Dunstan's Day, May 19th.

Mrs. Robert H. Porter presided at the annual meeting of St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook Monday evening. Four new members were elected for a two-year term to the board of directors. They are Mrs. Winston Kellogg, Mrs. Henry Jackson, Nathaniel Doughty and Maurice Smith.

Board members who will continue for another year are Stephen Manhard, Sidney Oldberg, Mrs. John H. Warner, and Mrs. Dwight Ensign. Manhard was elected president. Mrs. Warner, vice president, Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Jackson, recording secretary; and Mrs. Kellogg, corresponding secretary.
