Recreation Area Is 'Home' To Harlan School Students

Proud lake recreation area near Milford, has been "home" during the past week for the Harlan school sixth graders.

There was much enthusiasm as the children, accompanied by Harlan teachers, James Poteet, Richard Coolman, Bruce Noble and Edwin Crandall, school principal, boarded the bus with enough equipment for five days on the morning of May 19.

Sharing the camping experience with the Harlan group were the sixth grade class and teachers of Fremont school.

Their days began in a number of different ways. Some took botanical and zoological hikes and studied microscope life, while others learned the art of archery and rifle shooting.

Then there were art and craft classes, first aid, directed sports and K-12 duties. The dining room in the main lodge was the hub with the boys and girls dormitories flanking it. Evenings were centered around camp fires and the main lodge where there was singing and talent shows.

Lonesome parents waited for the bus to pull into Harlan school on Friday. Stepping off the bus were eager, smiling children who had had a grand five days—camping out!

The Harlan school weblio den B-34 joined Webelos from surrounding districts at the Charles Howell Scout reservation near Brighton, to join in the Webelos Day May 17.

Harlan dads and lads followed trails through the countryside, before setting down to their hot lunches.

Highlighting the day was the rifle range, with every taking an active part. A barbecue supper awaited those who stayed through the supper hour. Participating were Herbert Shreffler and son, Bill; Theodore Stevens and son, Peter; and Alan Yates and son, Jim.

The Joseph De Cuntas and son, daughters, Loretta and Eleanor, of Dowling road will motor to Somerville, Mass., over the Memorial day weekend. They will visit the Albert Razzino, relatives of Mrs. DeCuntas, and renewing old friendships.

Their plans include a side trip to the shrine of Our Lady of Perpetual Health in Brighton, Mass., before returning home.

Mrs. Paul Taylor of Lanegan drive entertained 12 area residents at a morning coffee, for Mrs. Ronald Frankman, a newcomer to the Leonard lane subdivision.

In the afternoon Mrs. Charles Morse of Bollingbroke drive introduced Mrs. Frankman at a "coffee" in her home for area residents.

The Ronald Frankmans of Upton drive moved here from Stamford Conn., but are formerly of Birmingham. They have two sons, Donald, 4, and John, 2. Frankman writes commercials and produces television shows for the Campbell-Ewald Co. Hunting and gardening are among the family's interests.

Jennie Smith, daughter of the Donald Smith of Oakhill drive, entertained at a "surprise birthday party" for Karen Smith of Walnut Lake last Friday. It was Karen's 15th birthday.

Guests included Lynn Roberts, Donna Schwab, Pam Huffman and Judy Lucas, who are classmates at Derby junior high.

Entertaining at a steak roast Saturday were the Donald Smiths of Oakhill drive. Dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbell of Milford and Mrs. Ann Berg of Grosse Pointe.

The Wilbur Koenigs are enjoying their new home on Pine Hill drive. Their move was from the West Beverly area. They have a daughter, Kathy, 14, attending Derby junior high. Koenig is sales manager of stainless steel bar and wire with Jones-Laughlin Steel Co., Detroit.

The Koenigs have just returned from a trip out west. Five days were spent in Las Vegas, Nev., where they attended the Steel Warehouse convention. Then on to Los Angeles, Calif., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carr.

Newcomers to Robinhood Circle are the M. J. Roberts of Ferndale. Roberts is a retired Ferndale fireman and is now with Summer Motor Sales, Birmingham. They have five children, Michele, 12, attending Derby junior high, Dennis, 11, Tom, 8, pupils at Harlan, David, 6, and Kevin, 4 months.

Birthdays, anniversaries, guests, and parties are all new—all the society editor about them.

Marriage Vows Repeated In Episcopal Church

St. James Episcopal church was the scene Saturday evening for the marriage of Sandra Jean Gross and Richard Earl Loeding. The Rev. Kenneth H. Gass performed the single-rite ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Gross of Henrietta street, Birmingham. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Loeding of Bird street, Birmingham.

THE BRIDE presented a "dreaded" picture in her full length gown of blossom white silk organza. Lace applique outlined the petal motif of the deeply rounded décolletage. The brief sleeves were shirred in scripture folds and the lace applique clasped the basque waist, continuing on the bouffant skirt, which fell to a chapel train.

She wore a crown of lace, trimmed in pearls and covered by a fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her flowers were a cascade of roses, eucharist lilies and ivy.

Brenda Lee Gross was her sister-in-law. She wore a cascade of roses, eucharist lilies and ivy. Her flowers were Mrs. Daniel Hearne Ross, R. Alana Dodge, Dawn E. French and Marcia Reynolds.

THE WERE gowned in waltz length tulle dresses with scoop necklines and bouffant skirts. They carried cascades of daisies and ivy.

Lynn Ellen Kimball was flower girl and she wore a short yellow nylon organza dress with a straw bonnet and basket of daisies.

Daniel Ross stood as best man. Ushers were Bruce Gross, Richard Kimball, Douglas Ross and Jerry White.

Mrs. Gross chose a turquoise silk organza sheath with matching accessories. Mother of the groom selected a light sheath. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Florida for two weeks.
