

Bloomfield Youth, His Date Beaten By Three Toughs

A Bloomfield township youth and his date were beaten Saturday by three young toughs who dragged them from their parked car in Dearborn township.

Charles Worsley, 21, of 5645 Crabtree road, and Miss Sally Miller, 19, of Dearborn township, were treated at Wayne county general hospital and released. The two were parked near Miss Miller's home at 2:45 a.m. when they were dragged from the car and beaten. Worsley said he was hit on the head with a beer bottle. Miss Miller said one youth knocked her to the ground with his fists before she could run home to phone police.

Worsley is a University of Michigan engineering student. Glass splinters from the broken beer bottle damaged his eye. Wayne county sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Peaceful Crowd Impresses Guest At City Meeting

LATHRUP—This is wonderful, said visiting Council President Charles E. Williams, "if council members at Colon saw so many faces before them, they would expect trouble."

There was a full house at the council meeting Monday and no trouble, to honor Mayor's exchange day and Michigan week. Members of the various city committees had been invited to meet the visiting president, his wife and daughter, Pamela.

Mrs. David Anderson escorted the Williamses to Southfield high school where they met School Superintendent Glenn Schoenhals and Principal Robert Hall for a tour of the school.

A mayors day luncheon at Club Berkley was followed by a tour of the city conducted by Councilwoman Elizabeth Mitchell and city administrator Leonard Watchowski.

Presiding at the council meeting at 8 p.m., Williams was presented with a travel clock from the city of Lathrup Village. Mrs. Williams and Pamela were given gifts of jewelry. Mayor Pro Tem Frederick O. Johnson presented a scroll commemorating the occasion.

The council session was adjourned for 15 minutes at 9 p.m. for a quick reception before the Williamses left for Colon.

All of Lathrup Now Included in Rouge Drainage District

LATHRUP—City Administrator Leonard Watchowski told council members Monday that the entire city of Lathrup had been included in the Rouge No. 1 drainage district.

The council had been concerned at their last meeting when plans for the city's 30th anniversary extreme southern boundary might be included in another drainage district which would mean an assessment district impossible.

Watchowski told councilman David Anderson that plans for widening of the Evans ditch would not be available for several months. However, tentative plans indicate the ditch will be widened to approximately 30 feet and deepened to 7 feet.
