

Until one is convinced that the true and enduring riches of life are not purchasable through the counters of stores, or from other material sources, one never will receive and enjoy the inheritance of true happiness. To be sure, much that is materialistic can bring one pleasure, and is worth striving for; but life's richest satisfactions are gained from within.

Girls' Counselor At Barnum Named 'Teacher of Month'

To Miss Muriel Brusie, counselor for girls at Barnum Junior high school, goes the first "Teacher of the Month" award made by the Birmingham Education association.

In making the announcement, Charles Buell, editor of the BEA newsletter, said that the members of the Birmingham Education association are proud to proclaim Miss Brusie "Teacher of the Month."

The award was made for her constancy to her profession and her unselfish devotion to the children and citizens of Birmingham. Buell further added that Miss Brusie is held in great respect and high regard by all her associates.

MURIEL BRUSIE began her career after graduation from high school. She was not yet out of her teens when she was awarded a con-

MURIEL BRUSIE

Zonta Club's 39th Anniversary

Birmingham-Bloomfield Zonta club will meet Tuesday at the Birmingham Community House at 7 p.m. for dinner. Dorothy Brooks, Zonta member, will give a demonstration of flower arrangements.

Since 1955 when a group of business, executive, and professional women from the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area banded together to give service to the community, 33 members of the local Zonta have contributed to the Camp Oakland Girls' Ranch and helped with local drives.

AS MEMBERS of this one-of-a-kind service organization, they joined on Saturday with 350 Zonta clubs in 15 countries throughout the world to mark the 39th anniversary of the founding of Zonta International. Recognizing a splendid record of participation in civic responsibilities and community service, plans call for added impetus in developing greater opportunities for activities to benefit people everywhere in this 40th anniversary year.

Wellesley Club's Joint Meeting Set

Birmingham Wellesley club will have a joint meeting with the Detroit Wellesley club for luncheon tomorrow at 12:30. They will meet at the home of Mrs. John Campbell, 1333 Glenary road, Birmingham.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Glen Davis, Mrs. Norman Berry, and Mrs. Oliver Marcotte. Mrs. Norman Staub of Evanston, Ill., will be the guest speaker. She is the national secretary of the Wellesley College development fund.

Four of the 25 members of the Monica Guild adding final stitches for the Nov. 22nd bazaar are (from left) Mrs. William Donnelly, general chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Dallery, Mrs. Harvey Sanderson and Mrs. William Rudell.

The Birmingham Eccentric

BIRMINGHAM, MICHIGAN

Thursday, November 13, 1958

SECTION C

A Trio of 'Top' Charmers

By FRAN MAIER
Woman's Editor

You'll shine as brightly as a Christmas ornament in the prettiest, most elegant sweaters ever.

Bedazzling and beautiful as the trio for glamorous holidays ahead... for tropical days and nights for fashion-minded vacationing Birmingham-Bloomfield area women... for that lavish and sophisticated feeling.

HOLIDAY sweaters are lavishly decorated back and front with re-embroidered matching lace. For the subtly sophisticated, cashmere cardigans are decorated with panels of imported lace crisscrossed with narrow velvet ribbons.

A short charmer for evening... a bolero of imported angora banded and woven in pure silk satin... a "top" for your dressiest occasion.

BESIDES basic blacks and whites, sweaters that come in the most heavenly pastels... ideal for co-ordinating or adding accent.

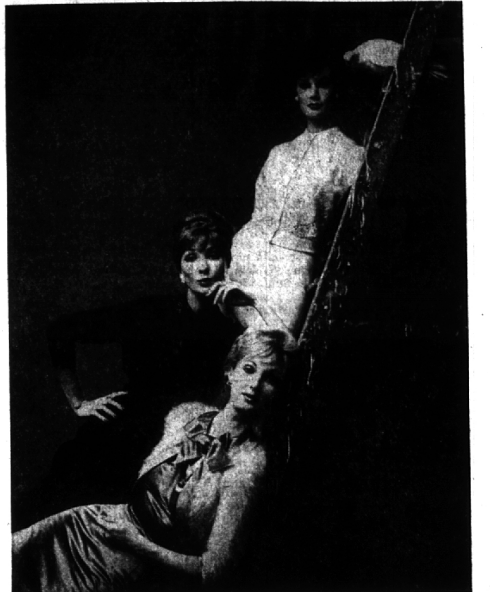

These plushy feeling charm-ers are toasty warm and practically weightless.

CASUALS come in a multitude of colors and styles, too... Italian ribbing, bulky knits, button V-necks, Roman-collar pullovers and "duchesa"-midways... all in the new free and easy shapes.

What more?... there's an exciting choice of styles and colors at your favorite Birmingham stores.

THE "sweater story" this week is the first in a series of weekly fashion features long awaited by the area's fashion-conscious women.

Subsequent features will appear weekly in The Eccentric

SWEATER CHARMERS from the top... an embroidered cashmere cardigan at $69.95; a cashmere with panels of imported lace at $69.95; and a bolero of imported angora, $89.95. Sizes range from 34 to 42 for the trio in a choice of black, white, grey, beige and pastels. For shopping information, phone MI 4-1106.

enlightening readers on high style and fashionable wearables... including hats, coats, shoes, dresses and accessories... including hats, coats, shoes, dresses and accessories... sizes, colors and prices. The featured merchandise will be available in the Birmingham shopping area.

Ruth Shain Class To Meet Tuesday

Ruth Shain class which meets every Tuesday at the Community House at 10 a.m., will devote its discussion period to the beginning of the study of "Should the U.S. Change Its China Policy?" The first half of the hour will be a report of the Edward Weeks lecture given to Village Women's club last week entitled "Creed for America."

On Nov. 25, Ruth Shain will show slides of her most recent trip 6,000 miles in a European car. This class is open to anyone interested.

PTA Bake Sale

Northbrook PTA is planning an Open House, bake sale and white elephant sale on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school. Donations may be brought to the school on Tuesday. Refreshments will be served by room-mothers.

Junior League Players Complete Trouping

Junior League Players completed two weeks of trouping yesterday, after presenting "A Box of Smiles" to 12 of the elementary schools in the area.

The play was written, especially for children by John Hirsch, and has been enthusiastically endorsed by the school principals as an excellent means of introducing the exciting art of live theater to children.

The children have so enjoyed the enriching experience of live drama that the Junior League Players added fall trouping this year to their annual spring performances of the past 11 seasons. The trouping schedule this fall included Adams, Baldwin, Harlan, Pembroke, Torrey, Greenfield, Beverly, Quanton, Midvale, Bloomfield, Valley Woods and Pierce schools.

"THERE IS NO admission fee for any performance," asserted Mrs. Franklin Butler, chairman of the group. "It should also be emphasized that we have never attempted to deliver a message to our audiences. The sole purpose of our productions is to give spontaneous enjoyment to the children and to provide them with an early experience of witnessing a play."

The many carefully penciled letters from youngsters expressing their appreciation have given added impetus to members of the cast who are admittedly joyful from being so well received.

LEAGUE members who took part in "A Box of Smiles" are Mrs. Garvin Bawden, Jr., Mrs. Nelson B. Noland, Mrs. Charles D. Howell, Mrs. Franklin Butler, Mrs. Francis T. M. Loud, Mrs. Everett E. Fisher and Mrs. Robert W. Scripps.

The flexible backstage hands

CWVS Celebrates 25th Birthday

College Women's Volunteer Service will celebrate its 25th birthday today with a dinner party at Merrill Palmer school. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Pauline W. Knapp, director of Merrill Palmer. She will speak on "What CWVS Has Done for the Community."

Three skits depicting volunteer work will be presented by Epsilon Sigma chapter of Delta Zeta at Wayne State university. CWVS volunteers have worked as secretaries, librarians, interviewers, tutors, office assistants, braille transcribers, etc.

Mrs. R. G. Bower of East Long Lake road, Bloomfield Hills, was one of the first members and is still an active member. Mrs. John Campbell of Glenary road, Birmingham, is currently on the board of directors.

Kappa Delta's 96th Chapter

National council of Kappa Delta sorority announces the establishment of its 96th chapter at Wayne State university, to be formally installed, Nov. 14, 15 and 16. This chapter will be a member of Zeta East Province and will be called Gamma Omicron chapter.

General chairman of the installation weekend is Elsie Townsend, professor of biology, WSU. Assisting her from the Birmingham area are Mrs. Edwin F. Lau and Mrs. Tunis Rice.

Kappa Delta's other Michigan chapters are located at the University of Michigan, Michigan State university and Albion college. Kappa Delta sorority is 61 years old and has a membership of over 45,000. The national philanthropy of Kappa Delta is the care of and aid to crippled children.

Sorority Observes Founders Day

Detroit alumnae chapter and Phi Kappa chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority in the professional field, will observe their Founders Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Deyo of Brady lane, Bloomfield Hills, on Monday at 8 p.m.

Highlighting the program will be Ava Conin Case, well known pianist of the mid-west area, who will play five movements from the E minor Partita—Bach. Birmingham hostess will be Mrs. Saul Bernat.

Birmingham members are Mrs. Saul Bernat, Mrs. Archie Brown, Mrs. Barclay Deyo, Mrs. James Gilton and Mrs. S. Oppenheim.

'Candlelight Bazaar' Is Goal Of Year-Round Sewing Bees

The "Candlelight Bazaar" with winter decorations will show the results of a year-round workshop by 25 hard-working women who call themselves the Monica Guild. They are an independent philanthropic group.

Workshops are at the homes of various members every other week, beginning in January and continuing until bazaar time each fall. Last year their efforts earned them a thousand dollars for charitable contributions.

THIS YEAR'S bazaar is scheduled for Nov. 22 at the North Congregational church, Northwest as towels, luncheon sets, and place mats; stuffed animals, novelty felt pillows and a large assortment of baked goods.

PROCEEDS from the venture will go toward such things as a nurse's scholarship, adopted Korean child, monthly birthday parties for a group of elderly ladies at the Northville State hospital, Children's Center in Detroit, South Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, and sending children and mothers to the Salvation Army fresh air camp.

Suburban Scene

by
Fran Maier
Society Editor

Honor for Architect

International recognition has come to local architect Glen Paulsen with the inclusion of his own home in a new book of houses recently published in London, England, by English architect June Park.

Thirty-seven examples are shown representing designs from Denmark, Norway, Australia, England, and the United States.

The Paulsen house at 6239 Eastmoor, Bloomfield township, is one of two selected from our own country. Shown are the site plan, a discussion of the plan, construction services, finishes, and three photographs, one of which is repeated on the book's cover.

What we refer to as "a one-story contemporary, is here termed "the bungalow."

Black Pearl... Delightful with Dinner

His first oysters on the half shell turned out to be a prosperous venture for eight-year-old George John Quart Saturday evening at Oakland Hills Country club.

He was among the family dinner guests at the 11th anniversary celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Quart, Sr., 235 South Glenary road, Bloomfield Village. Others in the party were his sister, Ellen, and grandmother, Mrs. Eva Heidrich.

After much "lip chewing" about knowing he would like oysters, his parents consented, and the waiter brought him a generous serving of the delicacy. George, each one was tastier than the other, but the very last one was best... as he was about to dip it into the sauce, he let out a shout "I have a pearl!" Sure enough it was a black pearl about the size of a pea... and thus far has been appraised for $200.

School Chums Visit Again

There'll be lots of reminiscing at the home of the John A. Gilrays of Avondale road, Bloomfield township, the next few weeks. Last evening Mrs. Margaret Melanby Turner arriving from the island of Oahu, Hawaii, by plane and will be the houseguests of the Gilrays. As young girls, she and Mrs. Gilray attended the Grier school in Tyrone, Pa. She has visited Mrs. Gilray on various other occasions... and this time she is here for the wedding of her daughter, Mary Turner, who will become the bride of Jim Lovell on the 28th of the month.

Food, Gifts and Color from Afar

Mrs. Donald Tyler is operating in her home at 25360 Franklin Hill road, the largest collection depots that have been established across the metropolitan area for the Old World Market.

The treasure shop offers for resale family heirlooms, travel souvenirs and costume jewelry—that so far range from an 18th century grandfather clock to a set of Lenox china demi-tasses in sterling frames.

Old World Market at the International Institute, West Kirby at John R. Detroit, opens at noon next Thursday and will continue through Nov. 23.

National colors of many homelands will be shown in decorations to create the atmosphere of village fairs with strolling musicians and entertainers to provide continuous (See SUBURBAN SCENE, Page 3-C)

Comment on Member's Work

Members of the new Cranbrook branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met Monday at the home of Mrs. Earle McPherson (right) of Merimac court, Bloomfield Hills, for meeting and tea. Looking over the judge's comments on arrangements brought by members are (from left) Mrs. Charles Taylor, president; and Mrs. McPherson. Other newly elected officers for the coming year are Mrs. William Mosher, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Herman, recording secretary; Mrs. Percy Hamley, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Harold Tanner, treasurer. The Cranbrook branch is composed of 40 women living in the Bloomfield area and have been sponsored by the Bloomfield Hills branch of the WNFGA.