Vaughan Plans Christmas Book Sale

Say moms and dads... are you in a lurch trying to find Christmas items for little ones?

Vaughan library officials are willing to help.

Because they understand school children and are trained in the selection of reading material for them, they are sponsoring their first annual book sale Dec. 2 at the school, 1090 Vaughan road, Bloomfield Hills.

MOMS, dads and youngsters can browse from 9:30 a.m.-3 p.m. and from 7-9 p.m. in the auditorium. Helen S. Williams, consultant of children's literature in Rochester, will chat with parents and help them select books according to age, interest and need.

"We will order any books not in stock," Mrs. Mary Keiffer, Vaughan librarian said, "but we want to be sure that they are books that will be delivered in time for Christmas."

Approximately 500 books, valued at $1,700, will be available at the sale.

It will feature a collection of children's books ranging from primers to science fiction. Publications displayed at the Storyland Book Exhibit from Nov. 17-25 will also be available.

Norma Simon and Margaret Williamson, well known children's authors, will be present to autograph copies of their books.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

FROM

MAX BROOCK INC.

In this jet age, we are far removed from the pioneer conditions that confronted the little band of Pilgrims as they regarded the approaching, stern New England winter. As they weighed the odds favoring their survival, they felt it proper to express their thanks to a merciful and bountiful Providence by setting aside a day of Thanksgiving.

The spiritual significance of the day does provide, a Century and a Half later, a most appropriate means of expressing our thanks to a divine Providence for our continued security and blessings.

We, at Max Broock, Inc., wish to join with our many friends and customers in the observance of this spirit of Thanksgiving. We feel that, by dedicating ourselves to their best interests, we are perpetuating that security into the future for which the Pilgrims gave thanks.
