LIVE and LEARN

If you are not alive, don't bother to read this. If you are alive, and want to have a gay old Christmas time, PAY ATTENTION.

On Fridays, the 5th and 12th, and on Saturays, the 6th and 13th, we have a special opportunity for you:-

will give 10 instructional demonstrations of the methods you can use in making six or eight basic decorations in the Christmas motif.

We are fortunate—or rather, you are fortunate to be able to partake of Mrs. Webb's vast experience in this particular field.

Her demonstrations will be JUST THAT. They will NOT BE WORKSHOPS. All the talks—10 in all—will be on the same basic designs such as door wreaths, mantel decoration, table centerpiece, Madden treatment, candle arrangements, kissing balls, small trees, etc.

We will have all the necessary ingredients for you to take home and make your own wierd arrangements.

The materials will include crimped holly rings, ribbon, cones; styrofoam balls, discs and blocks; philly fern pins, tiny fruits and birds and balls; wire snips and cone cutting shears, tree forms stuffed with sphagnum moss, moss rings, tape, greens of many varieties, (band-aids you can get at the drug store), wired picks, bright wire, aerosol paints and—oh, heck—come and see for yourself.

To keep you alive, coffee and cookies will be available (not served, mind you). Come early because our staff usually does most of the eating. This is one time in the year our excellent delivery men get back to the store at 2:15 instead of 5:58.

A few more NAMES have appeared, and here's "what's in 'em":-

OTAGIRI—Japanese iron garden lanterns and andsome, heavy brass flower frogs. (They do not

VICTOR BONONOW-This name represents the "People Watchers"—an assortment of ex-quisitely feathered birds. Like Bonnie Weed's creations, if you breathe on them they would live. The same name gives us Manzanito branches for the P.W. to perch on.

HONG KONG—Although it comes through the sub-name of CAL-ART, it is made in HONG KONG. Oh, it is the daintiest, yet rugged, reed furniture you have ever seen (unless you've been to H.K.) The price is low for the charm these pieces will give to your terrace, porch or sun rom. They are so light that Pop will have no trouble storing them for the winter, if such is necessary.

word of caution. We are selling a lot of MARSH HAY now for covering the perennial beds, newly planted bulbs and youngish ever-greens and shrubs. IT IS TOO EARLY to put the cover on these things.
