Mary Turner, Jim Lovell Honored at Dinner Party

More parties have been held honoring Mary Turner and Jim Lovell who will be married tonight at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mrs. Ferd Brock of Bloomfield Hills entertained at a luncheon for Mary last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gilray, Jr. of Birmingham had a Sunday evening supper honoring the couple. A bachelor dinner was given Tuesday night by school friends.

Wednesday evening a rehearsal dinner was in the Clifton road home of Jim's parents, the Robert Lovells. Joining Mary and Jim were maid of honor, Susan Lovell and best man, Robert Lovell, Jr.

Mary's sister, Mrs. Allen Peterson, who came all the way from Hawaii to be her matron of honor was there and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Butterworth and Mr. Jack Jacques. Eric and Jack will usher.

Mrs. Margaret M. Turner of Hawaii, Mary's mother, the John Gilrays and the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Norvell were guests also.

Just returned from an eight day visit in Chicago are Dr. and Mrs. William Wanger of Ardmore drive. Attending a radiological convention took part of the time, the rest was filled with fun—including a weekend visit with friends in Illinois.

Tuesday evening they saw "My Fair Lady." In the lobby they met Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooper of Delaware, Md., who were passing thru Chicago and had just bought tickets. Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Wanger were school friends in Montclair, N. J.

The Wangers' houseguests for Thanksgiving and this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Diltush and daughter, Gayle of Indianapolis, Ind.

Enjoying lunch at Mrs. Finlay McQueen's on Glangary circle Tuesday for the expected baby at the home of the Stephen Goodales, Jr. were Village ladies Mrs. Stephen Goodale, Jr., Mrs. John Forslow, Mrs. J. P. Judd, Mrs. E. D. Hoagland, and Mrs. Charles O'Neil. From the Birmingham area were Mrs. P. L. Thompson Jr., Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Mrs. C. Norman Fry, Mrs. Arthur Hudson, Mrs. Donald Dittich, Mrs. John R. Gray, Mrs. J. S. McDaniel and Mrs. Richard Schroeder. Thanksgiving dinner at Bloomfield Hills Country club was enjoyed by the C. Gale Welch Jr. family of Clifton road and the Charles Gale Welch of Bloomfield Hills.

Guests of the J. P. Judds of N. Glangary for Thanksgiving were Mrs. Judd's sister and family, Mrs. Kenneth Mills, Barbara and Douglas of St. Charles, Ill.

The Arthur Brookmans, Bob and Janet and the Morris Purdys and Linda, Bill and Jerry had Thanksgiving dinner in Caro, Mich. The A. O. Purdys welcomed children and grandchildren home.

The W. W. Bleakleys of Overhill road celebrated Thanksgiving at home. Fred came from Hilldale college for the weekend and Beverly brought Tom McCain home from U of M to enjoy the holiday with them.

Pat Berry's experiences in Vienna. The new neighbors on Morningview Terrace are Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Free and daughters, Carolyn, 12 and Susan, 8, both students at Country Day school.

Coming from Detroit where he is on the staff of Grace hospital, Dr. Free is a gynecologist and obstetrician. He was originally from Council Bluffs, Iowa, and attended Simpson college and the University of Iowa. Mrs. Free is from Canada and was a nurse at Grace hospital.

They have a summer home in Canada on Lake St. Clair and are members of the Beach Grove Golf club there.

Members of their family also are Coquette, Pierrot and Pierrette, miniature French poodles. Having to part with any one of the pups, but feeling that three dogs are
