Specialty Show for Junior Leaguers

In addition to the store's own home canned meats, brand leader Mark Fitt will present a half-hour specialty show for the Junior League of Birmingham at its Country Club.

Champagne Waltz Contest

"To the bugle—now let's have fun!" invited the mistresses of the Junior Leaguers at their Champagne Waltz party at their 50th anniversary of "The Champagne Waltz" contest.

Champagne Party: The Top Ten

The night for the Junior Leaguers and their men was highlighted with a champagne contest during which everyone will serve for beds in the grass and succumb.

The planting, decorating, and novel invitations have been arranged by the Junior League of Birmingham at the dance party. The decorations were arranged by the Junior Leaguers and their men. The champagne contest will be held on December 4th, at the Junior Leaguers' 50th anniversary celebration.

Parties to Honor Major General

The Culver Club of Great Britain has issued invitations for a formal dinner on December 4th at the Detroit Athletic Club. The guests of honor will be General and Mrs. John Henderson of Culver.

Mrs. John Henderson of Culver, Mrs. Charles E. Van Deventer, and Mrs. Robert L. Ford of the Ford Motor Company, and Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. A. A. Appleford, the wife of the late General and Mrs. Samuel W. Ford, and Mrs. Paul W. Depew, the wife of the late General, will be among the guests.

Tea for Students and Mothers

Mrs. Fred Birkholz will open her lovely Fairway drive home today for a tea for the students and mothers of the local high schools.

It's the season to be glamorous and what a beautiful way to achieve it.

Look most dashing and fashionable than ever and the result is—clothing: vivid green, raspberry and ice blue, all in chiffon chiffons.

Pieces of resistance of a busy social season may be a late-day look in holed woman's brown, glamorous after-dinner, bright white, and soft tulle, all in chiffon chiffons.

KAY F. RATNER, a life member of the Detroit Sportsmen's Club, and her husband, the late Captain of the Detroit Sportsmen's Club, will be guests of honor at the Country Club's annual Christmas dance.

CHRISTMAS BELL BECKON
