Lunch? No, Just Class Work

"Um, these rolls are good," Wonder what grade they'll get for them," senior Jackie White (left) asks Bonnie Russell, Shirley Cohen, and Lynn Malon while they sample prehistoric salad and rolls during the homeroom class at Bloomfield Hills High School. The girls and their classmates are busy planning a Christmas food program under the direction of their instructor, Mrs. Arthur Van Lint. They will set tables with decorations from their countries, prepare foods for each display and serve guests and faculty members during pre-Christmas school days.

Holy Name Students See Mission Film

By CAROL JENSEN

Mr. Harry Beirckar, once in the Holy Name Fraternity, directed the Holy Childhood and Prepger Mission Film for Holy Name students and faculty last week. The film, which was shown in the school's auditorium, depicted the work of the Franciscan order in foreign lands.

Daily and nightly football players and their families attended a football between S. F. B. and Haskell. The football players are very excited, and expect to be even more excited when they plug back into the school. The football game is expected to be a very exciting one, and will be held this Saturday.

Lunch is eaten in the cafeteria. All lunches are served with a choice of meat, potatoes, and vegetables. The cafeteria is very crowded during lunchtime, and the students are always busy.
