Lathrup Turns Down Quit Claim Offered

Lathrup—There's still no quit claim deed giving ownership of the auxiliary sewer garage in Lathrup to the city.

Monday night, the town council approved the necessary steps to proceed with plans for a new garage, with an estimated cost of $10,000. Previous attempts to acquire the quit claim deed from the owners had been unsuccessful.

Telfeason Made Chief In Lathrup

LATHRUP—The appointment of Lt. Thomas A. Tuttle as chief of police was approved by Lathrup council members Monday night.

Tutor, who has been on the Lathrup police force for the past three years, will assume the duties of police chief, replacing the former chief, who resigned last month.

Residents Don't Want B'ham Mailing Address

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Residents of six streets north of Quarter road want to keep their Bloomfield Hills mailing addresses at the same time, residents of Township Street, north of the recommended postal doubling line on Quarter road, have written a letter to the City Council asking for their Bloomfield Hills mailing addresses.

A proposed map to be mailed by the City Council next month will show the streets of Bloomfield Hills with the recommended postal doubling line on Quarter road, and as a result, some residents will be assigned to Bloomfield Hills addresses.

The change in mailing addresses could cause confusion among local businesses and residents, who are accustomed to receiving mail at their Bloomfield Hills addresses.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A committee of three people representing the Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township communities has been formed to discuss the matter.

The committee, which consists of three people from each community, will meet next month to discuss the proposed map and other related issues.

Increased Millage Opposed

In Bloomfield Hills Vote

WOOD CREEK FARM—Bloomfield Hills voters rejected a proposal to increase the millage rate by one mill last week. The proposal was defeated by a narrow margin, with 492 votes against and 487 votes in favor.

She's Making News Singing the Blues

WOOD CREEK FARM—Barbara Davis, a local blues singer, has been making waves in the music scene recently. Davis, who has been performing at local venues for the past two years, recently signed a contract with a major record label.

Davis has been gaining popularity with her soulful and heartfelt performances, and her music has earned her a loyal following among fans of the blues genre.

Re zoning is Sought In Bingham

BINGHAM FARMS—The proposed re-zoning of the area around Bingham Farms, located south of the city, has been met with opposition from residents. Several meetings have been held to discuss the proposed changes, and many residents have expressed concerns about the impact on their community.

The re-zoning proposal, which includes the conversion of residential areas into commercial zones, has been controversial, with some residents arguing that it would negatively affect property values and the quality of life in the area.

Plan Meet To Discuss School Bid

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A citizens' committee, which has labeled the proposed Bloomfield Hills school tax as an "unnecessary extravagance," is planning to meet to discuss the Dec. 8 election issue.

The citizens' committee, which was formed by local residents, has been calling for a tax increase to support the proposed school project, which includes the construction of a new high school and renovation of existing facilities.

The committee has been meeting regularly, and its members have been actively involved in the planning and organization of the meeting.

Traffic Light Refused To Walnut Lake School

W EST BLOOMFIELD—It took no vote on the proposal to install a traffic signal on Long Lake road in front of Walnut Lake School, as West Bloomfield's planning board denied the possibility at its meeting last week.

Need for a traffic light was addressed at the meeting, with school officials citing safety concerns for students and parents.

High School Sales Pultze Southfield

SOUTHFIELD—The former city of Southfield, which was incorporated in 1924, is now home to several high schools. The city is known for its strong educational system, with numerous schools offering a wide range of programs and courses.

One of the most prominent schools in the city is Southfield High School, which has a long history of academic excellence and has produced many successful alumni.

Robert Mcnutt Named Manager Of Southfield

SOUTHFIELD—The former city of Southfield, which was incorporated in 1924, is now home to several high schools. The city is known for its strong educational system, with numerous schools offering a wide range of programs and courses.

One of the most prominent schools in the city is Southfield High School, which has a long history of academic excellence and has produced many successful alumni.

Robert Mcnutt, a seasoned educator, has been named as the new manager of Southfield High School, with the aim of further strengthening the school's academic programs and improving student outcomes.