Foxcroft WNFGA Sets Holiday Tables

FOXCROFT—There was much artistic talent evident Monday at the November meeting of the Foxcroft WNFGA.

Ten garden club members set holiday tables to provide ideas for 70 guests, who attended the meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth, Jr., set a "hunt breakfast" table and Mrs. Robert Thom planned an array for "Tea and Scones."

THANKSGIVING tables were set by Mrs. Paul Billings, Mrs. Ed J. Coxon and Mrs. W. C. Patterson.

Christmas creations were done by Mrs. M. F. Mallender, Mrs. W. J. Coxon and Mrs. W. C. Patterson.

MRS. J. H. BENNETT designed a New Year's Eve table, while Mrs. C. J. Van Halteren and Mrs. John Liffert poured. Mrs. F. M. Lawrence was hostess and she was assisted by Mrs. E. E. Kramer.

Guests were Mrs. W. Barton, Mrs. J. S. Howell and Mrs. H. D. MacGregor.

Before Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Coxon of Sandy Lane went to Howe Military school to spend last week with their son, Jim, they received a phone call from him promising them a big Thanksgiving dinner.

During Founder's Day ceremonies, he received his commission as a master sergeant and was also made company commander.

Barbara Burnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burnett of Tanglewood court celebrated her tenth birthday Sunday at a family birthday dinner. In honor of the occasion Barbara's cousin, Larry Kuyvet, came to visit.

Richard Romeyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Romeyn, celebrated his birthday Sunday at a family birthday party. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Remington of Wing Lake, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stophen Gidley of Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reynolds of Foxcroft.

Gilbert Lake Residents Visit, Visited

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Campbell of Golfview drive have been enjoying a fall visit from their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Carter, who is a sophomore at Knox college.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McMillan Hinshaw, Jr., returned to their home in Morrisstown, N. J., this week after visiting for a week with Hinshaw family in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hinshaw of Pon Valley, during their visit they attended homecoming at the University of Michigan.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kleintert of Snowshoe Circle are their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Harvey and Beth and Kathy. They arrived from Detroit Hill, Mich., last Thursday and expect to remain another week.

To Drain Away Troubles

FRANKLIN—Another seaway? No, but important to Franklin's peace and tranquility is the $6800 Wellington road ditching project nearing completion under the surveillance of street administrator Stan Hunter, here looking it over.

The 3000 lineal feet of ditch is expected to rid Franklin of some of its chronic road troubles. Not only is the deepwide swathe going to carry off surplus storm waters, but Hunter is sure that stagnant pools which have menaced children and community health can now be drained through the new and additional culverts installed as part of the project.

Wing Lake Farms Social Briefs

Newcomers to Wing Lake Farms are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pries and son Johnny, 8, and daughter Cindy, 5, who moved to their new home on Franklin road last week from Indianapolis.

They were formerly of Detroit moving back is a great pleasure to them.

Pries is with Ford Motor company. He has his masters degree in marketing from University of Chicago.

Mrs. Pries is a graduate of Jackson College, Jackson, home town for both of them.

The children are enrolled in Wing Lake school.

Mrs. Dean Davis was pleasantly surprised Friday when her son Harley, who is a sophomore at Parsons college in Denver, Colo., suddenly came home for the weekend with Ken Newberry and John Dunham.

Harley and his mother attended the University of Michigan football game Saturday and he left Monday for the return trip.

Have You Met . . .

Newcomers in Foxcroft, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grant, who have rented the Daugherty home on East Surrey? They formerly lived in Shaker Heights, Grant is vice-president of Young Spring and Wire corporation. The Grants have taken over one room of their new home just for hobbies. Among the many they enjoy are oil painting, particularly portraits and landscapes, and copper tooling.
