Franklin Sewer OK'd By 1 Vote

Southfield Voters Reject Park Bond

Democrats scored a breakthrough Tuesday in Oakland county's fourth legislative district. Franklin approved entry of the park district by one vote, and Southfield voters failed to rally enough of a majority to authorize a bond issue for park area acquisition.

The 1.4-mile, heavily-northern Southfield-Grand River, which binds the north end of Southfield, was built by the Detroit Edison Company under a lease agreement from 1926. The park district plans to purchase the corridor for $1.4 million.

The election was the third in four years that Southfield has rejected a bond issue for park area. The last time in 1983, the park district sold $2.8 million in bonds to buy 120 acres of land.

Southfield voters this time approved a 10-cent tax, but the $1.8 million bond issue would have generated $1.4 million in revenue over 20 years.

The Franklin park bond issue was resoundingly defeated by a vote of 5,122 to 3,415.
