The big Greyhound bus wasn't "off course" when it drew up in front of the George Shanahan home on Eastmoor road Saturday morning. It arrived at 10 a.m. to pick up 30 enthusiastic football fans, who had been enjoying cocktails as guests of the Shanahans, and transport them to the Michigan-Navy game at Ann Arbor.
Michigan pennants were used in profusion to decorate the house and even fluttered from the top of the roadside mailbox.
The guests returned at 7 p.m. to cocktails and dinner at Shanahan's. Dancing and post-game quarterbacking occupied the evening.

Brian Patrick and Jimmy Foley returned recently from a visit with their grandparents. This little threesome, ages six, four and one spent 16 hours in a plane and crossed an ocean before they reached their destination, London, England.

Of course, these little fellows were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Daniel S. Foley, on this trip to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Decio.
Following a three-week stay in England, they were joined by Foley who took his family to Perth, Scotland and a visit with his mother.
The Foley's flew to the continent where they spent eight weeks touring France, Switzerland, Austria and Italy before returning to their home on Raymond Place.

A series of coffees launched the United Foundation drive in the Braes.

Mothers who had children in school under Miss Votey, joined in the reminiscing and refreshments that followed the program.
A group of the teachers honored Miss Votey Friday at luncheon at Devon Gables Friday.

Ready for the Country Fair

VALLEY WOODS—Making sure everybody's ready for the Valley Woods PTA's "Country Fair" is Chairman Andrew W. Seed, of 2740 Farmingdale. Here he checks the sugar plum fairy, Mrs. Robert Weir, of 3155 E. Bradford, and committee worker Mrs. Robert McElfresh, of 7160 Parkhurst drive, who models one of the aprons to go on sale at tomorrow's fair. The event will be held from 5 to 10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 17, at the school, with supper served and sitter service provided. It will feature games and carnival booths, prizes for the children, cotton candy, and the sale of Christmas bazaar and other handmade items such as cocktail aprons and tote bags. When children pick a "sugar plum" sucker from a sprayed tree, Mrs. Weir will touch it with her magic star and gives them a prize.
