Three Levels of Shopping Magnificence

A beautiful staircase (leading to the china department) adds a dramatic touch to this unusual store. Magnificent chandeliers of Old World elegance illuminate the Steinway pianos, Hammond organs and other merchandise of world-renowned quality.

Three-dimensional sculptured mural on the east wall (by Laszlo Ispanky) depicting the timeless beauty of music, is the perfect foil for the displays of new Stereophonic high-fidelity equipment by Fisher, Magnavox, Ampex and others.

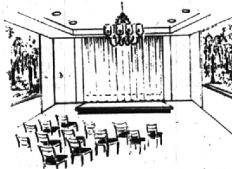

An auditorium (seating capacity 150) is located on the lower floor of this tri-level building, as well as six soundproof lesson studios. The auditorium will be made available, without charge, to educational and social groups.

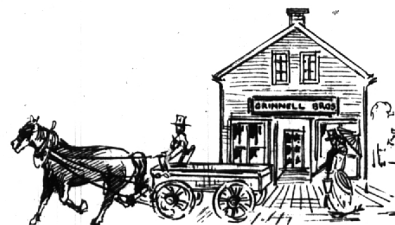

The upper level features fine china, crystal, silver and gifts displayed in cases of teakwood and wormy chestnut, with unusual concealed lighting. All the fine names such as Lenox, Rosenthal and Wedgwood are found here.

Modern record department, featuring the new Stereophonic recordings, as well as all other types, is designed for the ultimate in easy selection. Convenient "browser racks" classify factory-sealed albums.

Musical figures, shown above, are sketches of two of the four sculptured pieces (nine feet high) mounted on the spacious two-story east wall. This is the work of the eminent Hungarian sculptor, Laszlo Ispanky.

In 1879, the Grinnell Brothers opened their first store in Ann Arbor. Today there are 30 Grinnell stores thruout Michigan as well as in Ontario and Ohio.
