SOCIETY Emerald Green Gowns Worn by Attendants

Diana Gail Maddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Maddock of Lusher road, wore a gown of re-embroidered alencon lace when she entered Franklin Community church, Saturday, to become Mrs. William Walter Alderman, Jr.

The Rev. Robert Searls presided the 4 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 150 guests.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN featured a bateau neckline, long pointed sleeves and bell-shaped skirt. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible covered with white tulle and wore a single strand of pearls given her by the groom.

Goss Ann Thiemecke was honor attendant and bridesmaids were Patricia Ann Maddock, Kathleen Judith Mac Donald and Carol Johnson.

ATTENDANTS WORE emerald green, pea de soie gowns with matching headbands. They carried cascades of fall colored mums with accents of hollyhock and croton leaves.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Alderman of Skokie, Ill., asked Vernon Svenson to be best man. Seating the guests were Robert and Paul Carlson, John Ipan, Rudy Frank and Edwin Vanvoorek.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Maddock wore a pale blue gown of sole gowns with matching accessories. The groom's mother selected a rust velvet gown with matching accessories. Both mothers had cymbidium orchids.

MRS. WILLIAM ALDERMAN, JR. Alderman changed to a blue suit with matching accessories to start her travel.

DANBY'S

Club Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Members of the YKW celebrated their 25th anniversary Sunday with a dinner at the Rookstar. Besides being the club's anniversary, it was the 25th wedding anniversary of one of its original members, Mrs. Robert Mason.

The club was formed 25 years ago as a follow up of a bridal shower for the former Miss Lillian Collins.

It is purely a social group, although they have done a considerable amount of charitable work at various times.

As much as they were celebrating the Mason wedding anniversary, the husbands were also invited.

Those attending the dinner were Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Mason, of Franklin Village; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beers, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Spahr, Mrs. Annie Livingston, Miss Vera Shough, all of Birmingham.

Entertainment was given by Frank Angus of Auburn Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bassett, Miss Helen McKee and Mrs. Berdoe Fitzgerald of Royal Oak, Miss Margaret Hodges and Miss Grace Laferty of Clawson and Miss Mae Adler of Ferndale.

Members unable to attend the dinner were Mrs. Leo Quinn, Mrs. Mark Smith, Mrs. Daniel Sears and Mrs. Louis Kolp of Lansing.

After dinner the group returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beers where the honored couple was presented with an anniversary gift from the club.

Host Open House

More than 100 guests gathered at the open house last week at the J. Ramsey McPhersons, who have recently moved to their new home, 3888 Paddington road.

Ruth Shain Class Starts 39th Year

Ruth Shain class on International Affairs will open for its 39th consecutive year at 10 a.m., Oct. 28, at the Birmingham Community House. The group meets weekly until May 1.

The class is part of the American Association of University Women and is open to any interested person. Conducted as a public service, the fees cover only material used.

Although each class period, 10 to 11:30 a.m., is a unit in itself, continuity of attendance is desirable, as credits build on other events and backgrounds are necessary to understand the class.
