Franklin Social Briefs

Among the very select 400 who had passage on the S. S. North America as she became the first passenger ship to use the new locks, canals and channels of the St. Lawrence seaway were Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Hogue of Homsey road and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes of N. Greentree.

Unaware that they were "neighbors" since the purser's list omitted addresses, both couples report a "thoroughly enjoyable trip and have special certificates as mementos of the historic trip.

They joined the cruise, which originated in Chicago, from Detroit and spent six days traveling about 1,500 miles on the recently completed seaway.

The Hagues enjoyed briefings on the many aspects of the billion dollar project, explained by Martin Detschbach, deputy administrator of the seaway corporation and officials of the U. S. Army, N. Y. State Power Authority and the Canadian seaway people.

They were at Massena, N. Y., for the opening of the Long Sault Spillway Dam with Gov. Harriman and ex-governor Dewey participating.

The Barnes enjoyed "pioneering" and took advantage of the stopovers in Montreal for shopping, before returning home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ginn of Woodside entertained 30 guests last Friday to introduce them to families James Clarkson, running for state representative and James Lawson, aspirant for the prosecuting attorney's post on the November ballot. Basically an informal social evening, guests had an opportunity to hear first hand some of the issues facing voters this fall.

Blatant over the warm reception given their two plays, "The Green Man" and "Time Out for Ginger," members of the Franklin Junior players gathered at Cindy Starrett's home on Normandy after

PTA Room Moms To Meet, Plan Year's Activities

FRANKLIN — Mrs. Kenneth Bailey will entertain PTA appointed room mothers Sept. 23 at 9:30 with coffee at her home 30430 S. Greentree.

Named to serve this year are Mrs. Marshall Roe, a.m. Kindergarten; Mrs. Philip Desviller, p.m. Kindergarten; Mrs. Ernest Nillebe, first grade; Mrs. Charles Peterson, 1-2 combination; Mrs. Richard Diederich, second grade; Mrs. Fred McNabb, 2-3 combination;

Mrs. Eugene Kelly, third grade; Mrs. John Roberts, fourth grade; Mrs. Robert Lowe, 4-5 combination; Mrs. Edgar Lane, fifth grade; Mrs. Sam Gwinn and Mrs. Mest Carpenter, both sixth grades.

ROOM MOTHERS plan to hold coffee for mothers of students in their own homes, when plans for the school year will be discussed and volunteers can sign for duties on committees.

There will also be an Open House to 'meet' the new playground Sept. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. Parents are urged to come and see the improved play area and stay for cider and doughnuts.

"How's This Look, Dad?"

Contemplating going into the wholesale fish business, 9-year old Mike McManus and his mother, Mrs. Richard H. McManus of Orchard Lake, keep watch over the record-setting 75 fish that Mike recently hauled in at Ocean City, Md. Mike, a fifth grader at Brookside school, Cranbrook, was trolling with his mother in the Atlantic ocean, some 30 miles offshore, when he came across a sunken freighter infested with—guess what. Included in the catch were 45 sea bass, 25 bluefish and five miscellaneous varieties. The feat got Mike on television in Washington later the same day.
