Kutchai Named Senior President

The senior class elections were held last week and the returns are in. Howard Kutchai won the presidential race; Jim Townsend took the vice-presidency; Phillenore Drummond is our treasurer, and Shirley Smith and Marty Cole are the class secretaries.

Also, all the Student Council representatives for the year have been chosen from the seven senior homerooms. Congratulations to you all!

Looking around: BHHS plays its first game tomorrow with Brighton. Let's all hope they win—get here and cheer them on! Best bet at the drive-in-watch the show! Judy Marshall had a dinner party last Saturday evening—see munching on the chicken legs were: Dave Blanchard, Hester Black, Gary Brydell, Sandy Nunnally, Bill Rosevear, Pat Johnson, Ed Billings, Don Heggen, Louise Liu, Peter Tromsdorf, Laurene Kortkamp, Tom Manhard, Gary Piccu, and Tom Odle. A good time was had by all. Every one was entertained by Pat Johnson's imitations.

More and more sick jokes: "Mr. Toulouse—Lautree? This is the cheerleader—your Bernad's shorts are ready." "Mommy, what's a witch? If you don't shut up I'm going to push you right off the broom!" and finally—"Where did you learn to kiss like that, Fred?" "Siphoning gas..."

Achievement Tests Given 9th Graders

By PATSY GORDON

Science Research Associates achievement tests were given to all ninth graders during the week of Sept. 15. These tests include work study skills, reading, language arts and arithmetic. The ninth graders also had California Mental Maturity tests that week.

With fall comes football. Barnum's teams are already working on them. The football team will play its first game each night after school.

Miss Beasley, student teacher from Michigan State university, is working with Mrs. Kennedy on the social studies staff at Barnum. She lives in Dearborn and commutes back and forth every day. Miss Beasley has friends in Birmingham and put in her application to student teacher here a year in advance.

Parochial Notes

Holy Name Cheerleaders Set to Yell

Holy Name cheerleaders are ready to go this year with new cheers and new ideas. They've been practicing diligently for the coming football season. "It looks like we've got a fine group this year."

Members of the team are Linda Scheerer, Mary Flair, Jean Schwimmer, Jane Nagle, Mary Peg-body, Leslie Ingram, Marilyn Golchart, Mary Lou Hosten, Judy Leahy, Billie Wanink, Kay Mack, Mary Jo Damon, Susan Stringer, Isabel Bodor, Donna Hornack and Maureen Burke.

The editorial staff for the "Students' Pen," Holy Name's newspaper, has been selected and work on the paper has started. It will be published bi-weekly and will contain the latest news from Holy Name school. The staff is comprised of eighth graders.

Holy Name's football team beat St. John's in a scrimmage Sept. 21. The game was played at Harmon field and the final score was Holy Name 28, St. John 7.

The second annual faculty tea will be held Sept. 28 in the school gymnasium. All parents and their children are invited to attend the tea immediately following the last Mass. All 22 Holy Name faculty members will be present. The purpose of the tea is a "get-acquainted" period for parents and faculty.

Captains, and her black Frenchoodle, set are her main interests. She says she has been made to feel very at home here in Birmingham. Her pet, a black and white kitten was found trying to get into the school. Again Miss Ward took it in for a while. She put it out again since it did not seem lost or hungry.

Miss Beasley plans to return to MSU to finish her training after she leaves Barnum in December. Then, after graduating in June, she plans to do graduate work.

Work has begun on the various aspects of the ninth grade play which will be Oct. 17. Lessons in applying theatrical makeup were given last week for those interested. Meetings for scenery, posters, stagehands, and others were also last week. Miss McCormick, director, has everything well organized.

The Barnum Band is being expertly coached with its marching by Mr. Eugene Hanson. The band is playing drums and a member of the Michigan State university marching band for three years.

A couple of weeks ago Miss Ward, Barnum's librarian, had two furry visitors. One day a fluffy white kitten followed Mrs. Lange, a math teacher, to school. Miss

Ward kept it in the library and took care of it for the day. Then, a few days later, a black and white kitten was found trying to get into the school. Again Miss Ward took it in for a while. She put it out again since it did not seem lost or hungry.
