Labor Day Event Grows On Its Third Birthday

CRANBROOK-MAPLE—A tradition grew in status on its third birthday Monday, when more than 100 children marched along Cranbrook-Maple streets for the subdivision's third annual Labor Day parade.

"Each year sees the parade grow more elaborate in both costumes and floats for the smaller children, while the older boys and girls lavish decorations on their bicycles," stated Bob Clark, Cranbrook-Maple association treasurer.

Grand Marshall of Monday's parade was John Vass, whose car led the parade along the eight-block course, winding in a figure "8" throughout the subdivision.

Fishermen Prowl Gilbert Lake for Labor Day 'Prizes'

GILBERT LAKE—While no one broke any records at the Gilbert Lake Fishing Derby on Monday, everyone participating sure had a heap of fun. Some 30 boats dotted the lake from dawn until the middle of the afternoon. When everyone's catch was weighed and measured the prize for the most fish was won by Jay Harness; the catch, 24 pan fish. Butch McDonald caught the bestest fish and so won the trophy for the year. Bill Cooper captured the prize for the longest fish. (Rumor has it the longest fish measured 6 1/2 inches).

WITH 30 PRIZES to award, the committee consisting of Howard McDonald (chairman), Donald O'Toole, William Lavis and Lucid Falway was kept busy not only judging fish but a variety of foot races and water hole races for both children and adults.

A special prize for not racing was awarded to Kirk Falway who recently fractured his leg playing football. Unfortunately, Ben Harness, in Alaska and was unable to compete for the prize in the new "created" "Ben Hardesty class" in the fishing derby. Since Ben is "rather tough competition for the amateurs, this exclusive class is open only to one contestant—Ben Hardesty, of course.

AFTER ALL the fun of races and prizes everyone enjoyed a picnic lunch. Some 30 residents took part in what might be called Gilbert Lake's family fishing day, an event started six years ago by Carter Scott.

While in Phoenix, he enjoyed participating on TV in "Arizona" bandstand, a program like "American Bandstand" and the national network.

Two Walnut Lake boys decided they had better get after that "old bear." So, David F. Phillips and Jeff Clark took time during their afternoon of playing Indians to hunt "that big brown critter" that has been "making the Indians restless." That huge, ferocious animal was Jeff's dog, Susie, who decided it was too hot to play and snuck off for a rest in a hidden nook.
