Holmquist urged.
Culprits often park in driveways, the officials pointed out.
They are smart enough to realize that the beat patrolman has no way of knowing the car doesn't belong there.
The chief again advised, "call the police department if a strange car is parked in your driveway or your wacalioning neighbor's."

MUTUAL CONCERN and help between neighbors is vital, Holm-is away for any length of time, check his house regularly—every day," he urged.

"The police department should be notified if a family is going to be away for any length of time," he said.

The lieutenant pointed out that telephones should be disconnected whenever the owner will be gone for more than a week.

"Stop delivery of newspapers and mail," he urged. "It's better than leaving those things for a neighbor to handle."

Holmquist pointed out that most "B&Es" occur between dask and 10 p.m. Any unusual activities at this time must be reported if burglaries are to be stopped.
