

Drive Mornings During The Week—It Is Safer

When is it most dangerous to drive your car? At night? Or, perhaps, during rush hours? And what day of the week is safest for motorists?

Think you know the answers? Well, take pencil in hand, put on your thinking cap—and be prepared for some surprises.

1) More people are killed during the morning rush hour than during any other time of day. True or false?

2) The safest time of day to drive a car is from 4-8 a.m. True or false?

3) Sunday is the most dangerous day of the week to drive, largely because of "Sunday drivers." True or false?

4) NEARLY HALF of the most or vehicle accidents in urban areas involve pedestrians. True or false?

5) In most rural auto accidents, resulting in death, two cars collide with other. True or false?

Answers:
1) False. Most dangerous, time of day is 4-8 p.m.—the twilight hours. Biggest reason for this, the National safety council says, is because drivers, in a hurry to get home, often can't see well enough in the half-light, half-dark of twilight time and fail to adjust to the changing conditions.

2) True. This probably is so, the council says, largely because fewer cars are on the road then to have an accident.

3) False. Most dangerous day is Saturday. Sunday is next most dangerous.

4) TRUE: AND according to the council, most pedestrians are killed crossing between intersections or coming from behind parked cars.

5) False. Collisions between motor vehicles are the No. 2 cause of death. On the open main, causes are noncollisions in the roadway, such as an overturning or running off a curve.

"Regardless of the time of day or day of the week you drive," the council says, it's smart to hold down your speed and expect the unexpected.

"And if you're a pedestrian, a look at the statistics shows just how foolhardy it is to cross any place but at an intersection."

We Heard It Said By:

MRS. MARTHA KOHTE, 1342 Haynes: "Of all the billions and billions of people who inhabit this earth, only a mere handful, so to speak, know anything about the basic laws of economics—the laws that govern the production and distribution of what we call wealth. Millions of Americans rail and cry against the high prices the various tax collectors make us pay for what we call governmental services. Is it not truthful, then, to assert that the confused and chaotic tax environment in which we Americans live is spawned largely by our wide-spread ignorance of the subject of economics?"
