Jays Get Early Start In Baseball

When you ask Southfield baseball Coach Ed Bryant to name his lineup for the opening game, he can rattle it off without hesitation. The reason? Southfield high met Redford Union yesterday.

Highland Hills Golf Club Sets Plans for Play

quite a few times," Mrs. Vogely said. "ONE PERSON called up and wanted to know if this was the Vogely boat works." The boat has already cost the Vogelys $2,253 and Vogely estimates that there is $200 worth of materials yet to buy.

Getting in Shape

Bloomfield Hills milers Barry Armstrong, right, and Ulrich Klopfer prepare for the coming season by running a quick quarter-mile at the local track.

SIDELINES

WHILE DISCUSSING baseball, the 1959 season has also been labeled as the year of decision in the case of baseball vs. television.

That one-eyed monster is rearing its ugly head again, according to noted baseball authority Red Smith, in an exclusive article in the next issue of TV Guide, a local magazine of notes.

In this particular article, Smith starts by quoting another columnist, one Bob Sylvester, of New York. (No one starts a column with an original thought any more.)

Quotes Smith of Sylvester: "It's such a fine day for baseball, I think I'll move the TV set out to the porch."

LAST YEAR, the Yankees had the Big Town all to themselves; but the fans stayed away in droves. When the Dodgers and Giants shared activities in New York, all three teams enjoyed healthy attendance at these social functions.

Predictions came fast and furious that the Yankees would have sell-out crowds every day. One reason for the deluge of empty tickets that adorned the shelves is that the Yankees had competition from the 21-inch monster. The dirt box brought all kinds of games to New York and the fan slowly but surely, began to like staying home.

ONE SPONSOR that brought outside games to New York from Philadelphia did not like last year's Trendex ratings and has bowed out.

Now if the fans want to watch baseball, they'll have to go to the park. It will be interesting to see what happens next October when the final gate attendance figures are totalled up.

IT MAY BE the beginning of a new era... controlled TV where baseball is concerned. But then the avid TV fan isn't really worried. He'll still have Maverick.

Recreation Round Up

SENIOR MEN'S CLUB The Senior Men's Club which is sponsored jointly by the Birmingham Community House association and the city recreation department holds its meetings in the Ranch Room of the Community House. This group welcomes all men of retirement age who live in this district, to join them for mutual diversion, service and fellowship.

LIFE SAVING CLASS A life saving class sponsored by the B'nai Mitzvah Recreation department will begin Thursday, April 16, 7 to 9 p.m. at Barnum pool. The fee is $3 per person. The enrollment is limited to 65 participants. Contact the Recreation office for enrollment details. Swimmers must be at least 16 years of age to qualify for the Red Cross senior life saving class.

KITE TOURNAMENT With 300 participants on hand, Poppleton park never had as much excitement as was displayed last Saturday. Through the courtesy of Colonel James McPartlin, 3930 W. Orchard Hill Drive, who is a commander of the 403 Troop Carrier Wing at Selfridge and the Norman Lyle Squadron of the Birmingham Air Force Association, we had the use of a helicopter, to judge the height of the kites. The undisputed champion of the day was Alen Crise in the Junior High Class.

TEEN CENTER The Birmingham teen center will open for the first time this Friday evening, April 10, at the Y.M.C.A. Building on W. Lincoln. Bob Maxwell, of T.V. fame, will be on hand to spin discs for the teenagers. Make plans now to attend the opening this Friday night.

THERAPEUTIC SWIMMING Therapeutic swimming is available every Wednesday evening, 7 to 8 p.m. at the Barnum pool, for just 50c. Participants must have a permission slip from their doctor.
