Lathrup Cub Scouts Hold Pinewood Derby

LATHRUP—Cub scout pack 1C-1 celebrated its annual Pinewood Derby last week. With excitement and tenaciousness each boy watched his racer speed down the ramp. Colors and designs were new and original created by the cub scouts and their dads.

Grand Champs were Mike Clavarella, first, John Ofenstein, second and Lou Clavarella, third. The den champs were Jim Clark, Den 1; Billy Ritter, Den 2; John Tracey, Den 3; Carl Doering, Den 4; Dave Damburn, Den 8 and Dave Fiebig, Den 9. Engraved trophies were awarded to the winners. The trophies were donated by Dr. and Mrs. John Barrett.

A Christmas program and a viewing of color slides made during the presentation of "Lo and Behold," will be the feature of The Lathrup Players' December meeting to be held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Zattell, 28275 Sunset.

Northbrook Students Plan Dec. 17 Christmas Program

CRANBROOK—First through fourth graders at Northbrook school have planned a Christmas program called, "The Christmas Story." They will present it for their parents at 1:15 p.m. on Dec. 17.

The Christmas story will be accompanied by music and choral chanting directed by Mrs. Phyllis Brown, assisted by Miss Anne Cameron.

Grades five through seven have planned an evening program also called "The Christmas Story" to be presented on Dec. 22 at 8 p.m. The program will include all of the school chorus, the orchestra under the direction of Richard Brown and the hand directed by Frank Layne. The school art department will provide murals and Christmas decorations.

S'field Kiwaniteens To Meet Tonight

SOUTHFIELD — The Southfield Kiwaniteens will hold their Christmas meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Thompson, 24643 Edgemont road. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Warren Reid and Mrs. Ted Minko.

Program plans for the evening are being made by Mrs. Albert Geertz including a gift exchange and caroling.

Gilbert Lake Couple Hosts Get-Together

GILBERT LAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schewepe of Cottontail lane entertained friends at a Saturday evening party, the 200 club Christmas dance at Meadowbrook country club.

Mrs. Charles Bay of Quanton road entertained her bridge club last week on Wednesday. Guests were Mrs. Albert Badger, Mrs. George Dungan, Mrs. Hal Houghton, Mrs. Howard Schewepe, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Harry Atten and Mrs. N. E. Brown, Jr.

Mrs. Jack Spilatone of Gilbert Lake road entertained a group of friends at brunch last Monday. She will entertain another group of friends at brunch next Monday.

Good news at the David Gee home on Peabody drive includes the arrival of a grandson, a visit from a daughter and a son home to stay after four years in the service.

Their grandson, Brian W. Murphy, arrived Nov. 12. Gee's daughter, Mrs. Wilton Murphy stayed with the Gees for three weeks after her son was born. Mrs. Gee's son, David, arrived home Friday after serving with the Coast Guard for four years.

Invitations will be sent to Southfield high school graduates of the class of '59, but because there is no record of students who graduated from parochial schools, an invitation is issued here-with.

Legion Auxiliary Christmas Luncheon Set in Chelmsleigh

CHELMSLEIGH — Mrs. Fred Lindbloom of Ardmore drive will entertain some 30 members of the Ragan-Lide unit 13 of the American Legion auxiliary at a Christmas luncheon Monday.

A gift exchange is planned; they will complete plans to send Christmas gifts to veterans' children.

Mrs. Lindbloom's father, Col. George C. Waldo, was one of the five men who started the American Legion in France during World War I and he was the organizing president of the Legion in Michigan.

B'field of Mable Printers' Ink Flows In Foxcrofters' Veins

FOXFCROFT—If you have ever noticed some of the money-making schemes the small fry come up with, you realize some of them are headed for brilliant careers in the business world. Some of them stick with the lemonade stands and others branch out to sell old books and broken toys.

Then we have the more creative ventures. Like one boy who took orders for hand made rulers—a penny an inch. Bargain-hunters ordered two or three-inches. He even filled some one-inch orders.

THE LATEST venture may give the Birmingham Eccentric a little competition. A group of young ladies AND a group of young gentlemen are each about to publish newspapers. We may be scooped twice!

First inkling we had of this new enterprise was from two young ladies, Barbara Burnett and Kathy Negus, who rang the doorbell and asked if we'd like to subscribe to their newspaper. It would be a White, third edition. This sounded like a bargain so we snapped it up and asked for a copy right now. They hadn't gone to add our name to the long list of subscribers.

AND THE PRINTED invitation divulged further good news. It read, "We have the right to say that this newspaper has four times as many subscriptions at the same price as any newspaper in the area. The staff is: editor-Rick Stanford, vice-editor Chuck White, third editor John Hawkes and reporter, fourth editor-Jeff Perkins, and reporting editor."

B'field Heights Family Visits in Mansfield, Ohio

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS—Returning last week after a trip to Mansfield, Ohio, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tucker and their three children of Derry road. They visited Tucker's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Hooker. Mrs. Hooker is the former Judy Tucker of Birmingham.

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS—To celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Childs of Derry road sailed to Hawaii in October. They returned home last week after vacationing for seven weeks.

WING LAKE—Mr. and Mrs. David Goodfellow of Worlington entertained guests Saturday at Oakland Hills country club president's dinner-dance.

Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kasameyer of Wing Lake. Goodfellows attended a dinner party in Grosse Pointe Sunday with friends before attending the performance of "Taming of the Shrew."

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smart of Overhill returned from Florida last week after vacationing at their home in Pompano. They are looking forward to a visit from former Bloom-

Foxcroft Travelers Return From Visit to Eastern States

FOXFCROFT—Traveling east recently were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gryson and their daughter, Chris, of Crabtree road. They spent some time in New Jersey visiting relatives over the Thanksgiving holiday then stopped to spend several days with friends. Biggest event for Chris was a day in New York which included lunch at Sardi's.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Gadd of Meadow Way returned last week after vacationing in Florida for three weeks. They took their children, Skipper, Susie and Kathy, to visit Mrs. Gadd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Irving in Sarasota.

They did some sightseeing on the way south and also visited Gadd's brother in Tallahassee. During their vacation they enjoyed side trips to Silver Springs, St. Augustine and Marineland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Newell of Lantern Lane were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore T. Teagarden of Troy at the 200 Club Christmas dance Saturday at Meadowbrook country club.

Enjoying an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rodger of Sandy Lane is Roger's mother, She arrived from Gouverneur, N.Y. before Thanksgiving and plans to remain through the Christmas holidays. The Rodgers have planned a family reunion for Christmas.

Back in the area again after living in Chicago for the past two years are the Robert Carriers who formerly lived on East Surrey. They purchased the Morgan farm on Wing Lake road and moved in last week with their three horses, two donkeys, two kittens, a dog and five children.

Have You Met...

The H. J. Batts of Halston road, formerly of Indianapolis, Ind. Batts is a tire engineer in the development department of U. S. Rubber. He enjoys fishing while Mrs. Batts interests are in knitting and sewing.

Your Most Important Investment SHOULD BE SOUND

This house is an investment in good living, and continuing value.

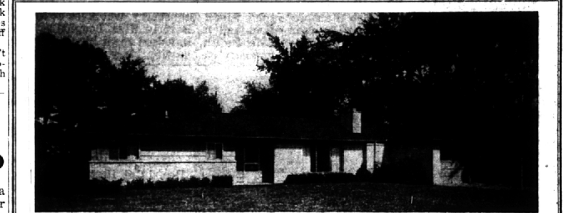

BECAUSE of its location. (Lone Pine Acres, most desirable new area in Bloomfield Township.)

BECAUSE of the materials in it. (Copper plumbing, seasoned oak floors, Anderson windows, Frigidaire oven, range and dishwasher, quality everywhere.)

BECAUSE of its price. (Just under $50,000.)

and it offers you a new level of living. Four levels, and very few steps. Five bedrooms, three and a half baths, a family room with a fireplace and parquet oak flooring, living room, dining room, breakfast room, and a marvelous kitchen.

See how pleasant an investment can be. Visit this house at 1786 Lone Pine Road (just one mile west of Telegraph Rd.), or call Mr. Sherer at MI 6-7325 or MA 6-5336, for an appointment.

Much More For Your Money

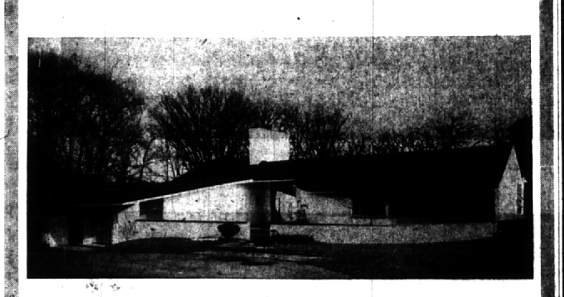

This smart grey brick ranch is comfortably set on a wide spreading site in the gently rolling Braes of Bloomfield. Tall shade trees and picturesque fruit trees form a solid background and side screen.

Rooms are generous in size and nicely proportioned. And there is a family room complete with fireplace to supplement the living room. And for overflow children's parties the plastered garage is all equipped even to a beautiful tile floor. There are three large bedrooms and a ceramic bath plus a powder room. You can walk to school and shops. Walnut Lake privileges. — Only $28,750.
