Romney

Michigan needs from its state government, how they can be paid for, how should the government be structured to carry out its responsibilities, and what can be done to accelerate Michigan's economic, cultural and social growth.

Well before the 1960 fall elections, Citizens for Michigan members will be polled and the majority's thinking will be incorporated into final recommendations.

"If we get enough citizens aroused and participating, the parties and candidates will support these recommendations and put them into effect," he said.

"We have reached the point where the citizens must begin to devote more time to their citizenship if we are going to retain what we have.

Following Romney's talk, 72 Birmingham-Bloomfield citizens gathered in a study hall under the leadership of Mrs. Peter B. Loomis, Birmingham school board president.

THE GROUP split into two, with the Birmingham contingent of 45 electing as temporary co-chairmen two young attorneys, Ramon A. VonDrahe, 1656 Washington, and David F. Breck, 528 Clark. The group set 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 11 for its first meeting in the Birmingham Community House ranch room.

The Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield township group named John C. Graham, 6150 Wing Lake road, Bloomfield township, as its chairman pro tem. Mrs. F. Hollister Ma-Hills, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Bloomfield chapter slated its first meeting for 8:15 p.m. Monday, Jan. 4 in Bloomfield Hills high school.

A SOUTHFIELD township and city group, meeting with Bingham Farms resident Richard C. Van Dusen, elected former township supervisor Eugene Swen to its chairmanship. A meeting was scheduled at 8 p.m. Jan. 9 at Southfield high school.

All groups have invited newcomers to join them in their citizens' project.
