

On the one hand few persons will deny that the best, indeed the only, way to acquire knowledge is to maintain an "open mind." In short, by being receptive to those media by and through which one may observe and learn about things may one make progress. So one goes to school, reads books, converses with others. Yet how contrary to "open mindedness" one is when prejudice gets control.

SOCIETY

Holy Name Church Scene of Ceremony

Holy Name church in Birmingham was the scene November 14 for the marriage of Delphine M. Coon and David I. Jarred. Vows were heard at 10 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo F. Verner of Manchester drive, Birmingham. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jarred of Lansing.

THE BRIDE wore a pale aqua silk ballerina length gown with matching accessories. She carried a cascade of mums and pink roses. Maid of honor was Mrs. James Verner of Royal Oak and bridesmaid was Marilyn Ann Verner of Port Austin. Both attendants wore American Beauty silk dresses with cascade bouquets of shattered pink carnations and pale pink hats.

JAMES VERNER stood as best man and ushers were Kenneth Marshall and Richard Baker. Mother of the bride wore a beige silk afternoon dress with pale salmon camelias and dark brown accessories. Mother of the groom selected a navy blue and white crepe dress with matching accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses.

The young couple went to Washington, D. C., for their wedding trip.

MRS. DAVID JARRED

Marygrove's Yule Family Buffet
