

Marks Centennial

Parents, teachers and students had a gay time in June at the centennial celebration of Wing Lake school. The choristers and their teachers were decked out in roaring twenties outfits and accompanied acts with the enthusiasm of the era. To the right is a dance interpretation of "Apple Blossom Time," performed around a replica of the "old apple tree" once seen at the old-time school.

Oleg Cassini in B'ham

Sitting beside gorgeous New York photographer's model Judy DeFoe, Oleg Cassini indicates his reaction in February to the sack, the trapeze and the like. He calls red-headed Judy, a former Detroit who was back home for a visit, his "favorite model."

Arraigned on Shooting

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Howard Beckman (left) and Robert Lamb (center) stand with Bloomfield township police chief Norman Dehnke before being arraigned in July for a shooting spree at the James B. Caldwell home on Joanne court.

Music for the Baby

While her other three children are in the schools whose board of education she was recently named to, Mary (Mrs. Dean) Boer plays a record for her two-year-old son, Bruce, in January.

Highlights of 1959

(Continued from Preceding Page)

championship at Thurston high score was 390 and West Bloomfield's 402.

Springdale golf course was one step closer to that new club house following action by the Birmingham city commission. City commissioners approved Carl B. Marr, 455 Fairfax, of Marr & Marr, Detroit architectural firm, as designer for the new club house.

Issue of June 1

The quiet, suburban-country atmosphere of the Birmingham (Continued on Next Page)

Issue of May 21
Internationally known concert singer James Melton was named to headline the second annual Birmingham Arts Festival in early June. General Chairman Harvey A. Kresge announced.

Former Birmingham board of education president Wylie E. Groves, 542 Westchester Way, Birmingham, died suddenly. Groves, 63, served on the school board for 18 years and was its president during the 1957-58 term. He was a graduate of the Birmingham school system.

Wilbur H. Mason, Jr., 1854 Stanley, manager of Jacobson's local stores, was selected to head a special committee of Birmingham's central business district's property owners, and businessmen to see what can be done to maintain this community as an attractive and convenient shopping center.

Franklin Community church joined forces with the "13 colonies" to celebrate at its ninth annual colonial dinner. The Rev. Robert J. Searls headlined the dinner.

Lansing Mayor Ralph Crego, Athens Clerk Charles Hollinger and South Haven Mayor Donald Goodwillie exchanged a day with Beverly Hills, Franklin and Lathrup officials.

Issue of May 28
Morris D. Hill, 965 East Glenzerly circle, Bloomfield Village, was elected a vice president of the Ford Motor company.

The sale of bonds made possible the beginning of construction on the Evergreen interceptor sewer with a special ground breaking ceremony set in early June.

Mrs. Thomas Snelham, 759 Lark Park drive, was elected to the State board of the League of women voters of Michigan. Mrs. Snelham took up a two-year job of Field Services chairman after finishing her two-year term as president of the Birmingham league.

Although Franklin intermittently toyed with the idea of changing from a village to a city form of government, the village council decided to drop further consideration of the matter. The council agreed with Richard Korn's recommendation that would not offer much more the village at the time.

With three men hitting 77, Birmingham golf team captured its third consecutive Pontiac Press invitational trophy and its sixth in eight years. Gary Mow, Orion Pearson and Mike Jackson played for 77. West Bloomfield was runner-up. The Maples' team

Le Pard's Beauty Salon
279 So. Woodward
Specialists in Hair Styling
PERMANENTS TINTING BLEACHING
Open Evenings by Appointment
PARKING IN REAR
MI 6-1285

Woodware makes a Festive Gift
DRY SINK . . . colonial hospitality for modern living by Ethan Allen

$124.50

There's a wealth of modern hospitality in this quaint colonial "country" piece. This dainty-dry sink makes a unique bar, or buffet board—doubles as a planer if you wish.

Serving top is wood grained plastic in Ethan Allen's famed brown nutmeg finish—shugs off burns, stains, spilled liquids. Louvered doors are wood lined, dust-proof. Comes with removable 18" x 18" copper serving or platter tray.

This is Ethan Allen Early American—Bannister-built for years of happy family service of selected rock maple and birch cabinet woods. The Dry Sink is only one example of the endless decorating and storage solutions you'll find all through our open stock Ethan Allen Collection for bedroom, living and dining room. Remember, when you think of Early American, think of Ethan Allen, the best of yesterday, today!

Come in—See Our Oldie Colony Shop—See Many Unusual Colonial Pieces and Accessories—See Over 500 Ethan Allen Selections—For Bed-room, Dining Room, Den and Living Room.

Royal Oak Furniture Co.
Phone MI 3-1330
AT THE NEW PARKING LOT
215 S. WASHINGTON AVE., ROYAL OAK, MICH.
Free Customer Parking Across the Street
Open Even till Christmas

for HIM...
MERRY CHRISTMAS!
To All Of You Whom We Have So Pleasantly Served This Year!
Mortimer's
Men's Style Center
123 W. Maple

Prescription for Profit: A Want Ad by phone or mail.

HOLIDAY BEST WISHES
May the spiritual glow of this glorious season remain with you and bless you through the coming year.

Kay Baum
162 W. Maple Birmingham

His Key to Saugatuck

Birmingham Mayor Harry M. Denyes, Jr., (right) holds the key to the village of Saugatuck. He obtained it in May when he (and Mrs. Denyes in light suit) went to the Lake Michigan shore for Mayor Exchange day during Michigan Week. That's Saugatuck Mayor Pro Tem Frank Hicks at left with Councilman Michael Kenney and Exchange Day hostess Mrs. Sally Erlandson.

Season's Greetings
LEWIS
fine furniture
235 Pierce St. Birmingham

The Season's Best Wishes

We sincerely wish our many customers and friends all the blessings of this happy season, and extend our thanks for their patronage through the year!

The Sales & Service Department Of HAROLD TURNER FORD
"Your Friendly Ford Dealer"
464 S. Woodward Birmingham