They're Flipping for This 'Gentle' Sport

Whether it is for sport or simply for pleasure more men and women are finding that Judo is not a nasty word.

However difficult it may be to believe that the translation of Judo is "gentle-way". This is so.

Each person who attends the classes offered by the Birmingham YMCA soon discovers that this is something for young and older-sounding alike. They also learn that they are not being taught killing techniques which are associated with Judo through misunderstanding and lack of knowledge of the sport.

A handicapped person will find that even this doesn't necessarily have to prevent him from taking a course in Judo.

Under the skilled instruction of Ross Faustino the Birmingham YMCA offers Judo to all men and women 17 years and older.

Christmas Trees

Ancient again a "forest" of Christmas trees will be found at the Birmingham YMCA, 409 E. Lincoln. Scotch Pine, Balsam, and Spruce trees are to be sold by the Y's Mens club starting Saturday, Dec. 5 in order to raise money for furthering the local "Y" program in youth work and World Service abroad.

A helping hand is being given the Y's Men by members of Gray-Y clubs. The boys are selling tickets

'Department Store' Role of Banking Is Told in 3-D

Banking and its relationship to the community is being told in a compact, three-dimensional display prepared by the Detroit Bank & Trust Co.

William A. Allen, assistant cashier and operating officer in charge of the Woodward-Hamilton office of the bank, said "The display depicts the true role a bank can play in a community like Birmingham."

The display shows how banks have become department stores of finance, both wholesale and retail. It will be shown in the Woodward-Hamilton office through Dec. 11.

Allen said, "We have made a special effort to have the display here in Birmingham during this week so that Men's Night open house visitors would be able to inspect this interesting and informative display."

The display has the added features of a continuous color-sound motion picture and three audience-participation panels.
