Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Marr Residing in Ann Arbor

Gail Hendley Burton and Maurice George Marr were united in marriage January 24. The double-ring ceremony took place at 5 o'clock in the Franklin Community church with the Rev. Robert J. Searls officiating.

Gail McKinley of Birmingham was maid of honor. Carol Dorman, Ann Kirchberg and Mrs. Richard Felic were bridesmaids and Debbie Mitchell was flower girl.

ATTENDANTS of the bride wore identically styled frocks, a taupe tulle-trimmed in deep aqua and de sole with flaring back accented by loose panels falling from low scooped high bow necklines, tucked under hem set off by a cascade of pale pink carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Burton of Franklin. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bayasens of Saginaw.

Richard Marr of Saginaw, brother of the groom, served as best man.

THE BRIDE who was given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown of soft satin gown with a ruffled and ruffled alencon lace. Her bell-shaped skirt fell into a chapel train and a pearl and rhinestone tiara bowed fingertip length illusion veil. Completing the picture was a cascade of baby mums and white orchids.

The bride's mother wore a pink embroidered organza and the groom's mother chose a blue lace with chiffon panel. Both pinned white orchids to their gowns.

MR. AND MRS. MAURICE MARR

their honeymoon in Florida, the newlyweds plan to reside in Ann Arbor where the bride now is attending the University of Michigan.

Dad, Lad Party Accents Festivities

Detroit Athletic club's social fun will be back in full swing Saturday, the opening night of a dinner-dance-floor show gala to continue through Feb. 14.

Announcement of the seven-evening festivity, the first 1959 floor show function scheduled by the club, brought a stream of reservations from Birmingham and Bloomfield members as well as others of the entire area.

Actually, Saturday will be a two-fete day . . . the DAC will stage its annual Fathers' and Sons' Party in the early afternoon, beginning at 12 o'clock.

For the dinner-show week, headliner will be Sue Carson, singing comedienne, and it will be a return appearance at the DAC for this charmer. Other attraction is to be Reneau, who describes himself as a magical decepticonist.

The club's big main dining room is the locale, with dinner starting at 7 o'clock each evening. Glenn Williams and his orchestra will provide the music for dinner-dancing and more of the light fantastic after the 9:30 p.m. entertainment.

Among Birmingham-Bloomfield members with reservations for groups or foursomes during the festive week are the William S. Speigels, Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Pearce, the John Flannerys, the Robert J. Swifts, the Reid Hallas, the Lester Downies, the John C. Kinsels, the Sidney Norwoods, the Elliott S. Kinneys and the Fred D. Hendricks.

At the Fathers' and Sons' Party this Saturday, the 7th, some 700 dads and lads (age range from seven years to grandfathers) will gather first in the natatorium for swim contests and diving for dollars by the boys, and an aquatic exhibition.

Luncheon will follow at 1 p.m., and the gray finale will be a stage show presenting Singer Carson and Magician Reneaux.

Overseas Students Visit Local Home

The Birmingham U of M alumnae meeting at the home of Mrs. William J. Bird on Lyndonhurst, Tuesday at 8 p.m. will honor the Birmingham and Bloomfield teachers who graduated or attended the university.

The program chairman, Mrs. Sylvester Trythall, has arranged a special program entitled "Around the World in 80 Minutes."

SEVERAL POTLUCK suppers are planned so that American families may meet other overseas students visiting in their community.

The Frank Wickham of Mead-ovake are planning a get-together of seven families and their student guests who represented Indonesia, India, Pakistan, Thailand, Japan, Spain, Israel, United Kingdom, Hong Kong, Egypt, Poland, Philippines, Iran, Venezuela, Brazil and Burma.

Hans Kristin will speak on the Berlin crisis and other world developments with the new Germany. Mrs. Alison T. Myers, alumnae executive secretary, will moderate the lunch.

"Operation Friendship," overseen by the Birmingham U of M alumnae for overseas students at the University, is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, and March 21 and 22.

FORTY STUDENTS will come each weekend by bus from Ann Arbor to the home of the Norris A. Hosts on Bedford where they will have coffee and cookies and discuss the local community.

The students will then be picked up by their families which include Birmingham, Royal Oak, Pontiac, and Farmington alumnae and their friends.

Garden Club Meets Tonight

While most of us matter under our breath as we anxiously vent our worried ways through snow and slush, members of the Birmingham Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association have their attention focused on the warm and lovely horizon of spring.

They will hold their regular monthly meeting and tea at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Birmingham Community House.

Highlight of the meeting will be a presentation by Charles W. Tate, City Forester, of the "City Plan for Birmingham's Civic Center." Mrs. Seth B. Slawson will discuss "Creating Harmony With Plants."

Principal speaker for the afternoon program will be Mrs. William Burlingame, a world traveler interested in plant life in every corner of the world. Her illustrated talk will cover "Gardens Here and Abroad."

The State Council meeting will be Feb. 12 at the Oakland Hills Country club.

program will be made by Professor Hanson of the Music Institute as recorded during his studies. He has been a Wayne State University faculty member for 22 years. Music Director and Organist for Temple Beth El for 25 years, and lectured extensively before civic and community groups on the subject he is presenting to the Birmingham Musicales.

His talk will be dramatized by the playing of authentic Indian music which Professor Fickett has recorded during his studies. He has been a Wayne State University faculty member for 22 years. Music Director and Organist for Temple Beth El for 25 years, and lectured extensively before civic and community groups on the subject he is presenting to the Birmingham Musicales.

CHAIRMAN for the day will be Mrs. Ralph M. Fox. Following the musicale program tea will be served. Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. I. W. Robertson, Mrs. Edgar Ebersole, Mrs. John Phelps and Mrs. Herbert Gardner.

Mrs. I. W. Robertson, president, Mrs. Frank Heath, Mrs. H. C. Frederic Pym, Mrs. N. L. Mudd, Mrs. Gray Dastin, Mrs. Harold Beaver, and Mrs. Allen Bumpus.

Congregational Church Scene of Ceremony
