

When people go forth to make purchases with poorly sums of their money they rarely consider how much they want to pay for each item. Especially if it be an expensive appliance, an automobile, a piano. That is, of course, the right thing to do. Yet so many of us, uninformed, vote for candidates for public office whose official acts cost us more than we want to pay.

New President Follows Devotion Of Butzel Family

By FRAN MAIER
Society Editor

She likes the things her mother liked and has justly followed the same footsteps. Mrs. Leonard Lewis, 1450 Pilgrim, last week was named president of the board of directors of Franklin Settlement, 14 years after her mother, Mrs. Leo Butzel, was elected to the same board.

It seemed especially fitting that Carolyn Hevenrich, Butzel's daughter should follow in a volunteer capacity such as her mother, for the devotion of the Butzel family through the years to the Settlement House and its camp located near Lake Orion.

IT IS ALSO interesting in these days of changing and shifting scenes, that the interest of the Butzel family has continued in this agency.

Mrs. Martin Butzel of Walnut Lake (Rosalee Kahn), sister-in-law of Mrs. Lewis, is serving as corresponding secretary on the board, and Mrs. William Scripps of Country Club drive, Bloomfield Hills, is still on the board and retains a great interest.

Joseph A. Beattie, now executive director at the House, came there as boys' director 26 years ago, and again it was Mrs. Butzel who was instrumental in getting him.

MRS. EDELL FORD, Mrs. Stuart A. Curtis, Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mrs. Charles H. Dean, Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson, Mrs. William W. Crapo and Mrs. C. Henry Haberkorn III, are likewise still active members of the board and take an active interest in the affairs of the neighborhood center, which has helped to mold the lives of many youngsters living in that area.

People move in and out but Franklin Settlement stands there welcoming the new neighbors and helping them find a place in the life of the community.

FRANKLIN Settlement, located in a blighted area on Charlevoix, Detroit, is in its 77th year and is the oldest settlement in Michigan. The house serves as a center of interpretation, helping people help themselves. Ages range from the unborn to 98... with activities and guidance programs for all.

PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD of directors of Franklin Settlement House... Mrs. Leonard T. Lewis.

Busy Bees... All Girl Act

What's more fun than a barrel of monkeys? ... a troupe of two monkeys and six dogs, according to Mrs. Harry Passner of North Adams road, Birmingham.

Looking for a novel way to entertain her very young relatives, Mrs. Passner recalled seeing the Gloria Pebbles animal act on television's "You Asked For It", the Ed Sullivan Show and recently in the Detroit Times pictorial section.

She engaged the trainer, Mrs. Edward Pebbles, 18810 Cardon, Detroit, and her "all girl" group of Busy Bees, the monkeys, Betty and Brandy and the dogs, Boots, Discot, Bubbles, Bobby and Baby.

Talented Mrs. Pebbles controls a group of excited children as easily as her animal show and will perform in any average size family room.

It was hard to tell who had more fun... the kids or the parents!

Reserve the Date

Invitations in delicate pink are in the mail this week to beckon guests to Bloomfield Country Day tea and fashion show set for 2 p.m., Feb. 14.

Students, mothers and wee tots will be among the models.

Brother's Treat

It was big girl stuff... her tenth birthday party Saturday at Kingsley Inn.

For Diana Tehoy a table was set in the empire room graced with low arrangements of red roses and as each guest arrived they added another flower to the bouquet.

The nicest part of the whole party... besides all the fun... was that Diana's "big" brother, William, age 14, saved money all year from mowing lawns and shoveling walks to "foot" the bill.

Besides Diana's parents, the William J. Tehoyos of Valley Hill road, Bloomfield Hills, invited guests were: Susan Steeves, Claudia Ashley, Sarah Coulson, Margaret McCaughey, Sandra Lundgren, Joan Putnam, Sandra Stoner, Leslie McBride and Julie Spina.

Cocktails, Dinner... Then the Play

Village Players are all set for the opening of "Born Yesterday" Friday at the Chestnut street playhouse and members are planning pre-cocktail and dinner parties.

This Friday Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Etter will have the John Masons and the Gerald Millars and on Feb. 6 their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Voss.

Entertaining on the seventh will be Mr. and Mrs. Karlton W. Pierce. Their guests include Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Gillen, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Higgins, Mrs. John F. Hollister, Gunnar George, Dr. John B. Haschberger, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Hirschfield and Mr. and Mrs. Clark S. Andrew.

On the second night, Jan. 31, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Reid, Jr., of Clifton will entertain in honor of Mrs. J. Tru (See SUBURBAN SCENE, Page 5-C)

A dance to benefit muscular dystrophy will be Feb. 13 at Weston Golf and Country club. Ralph Bowen and his orchestra will provide the music. Ticket chairman for the Birmingham area is Mrs. Vern Roycroft, 6812 Woodbank drive, Birmingham.

AMONG THE LOCAL people attending will be the Fred Anderson, George Shaders, the James Heit, Birmingham area officers are Mrs. George Passinus, the Jack Mrs. Richard Reason, president; Herold, the Jack Buys, the 678 Ridgeville, who will also present the program, "Around the World."

Catherine Casteel Saunders Weds Robert Henshaw Nelson

MRS. ROBERT NELSON

St. Dunstan's chapel, Christ Church Cranbrook, was the scene Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Catherine Casteel Saunders and Robert Henshaw Nelson. The Rev. William Norvell performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rathburn Saunders of S. Glenary road, Birmingham. Her husband is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Monroe Nelson of Kirkway drive, Bloomfield Hills.

THE BRIDE appeared in a candlelight pearl de sole gown featuring a round neckline of alencon pearl trimmed lace, fitted basque and bell skirt with short chapel train. A pearl tiara secured her finger-tips of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of callia lilies and magnolia leaves.

Matron of honor was Mrs. George W. Black and maid of honor was Anne Casteel Saunders, both sisters of the bride. They wore identical dresses of American beauty tulle with harem skirts, fitted basques, scoop necklines and three quarter puffed sleeves. Head bands featured flat bows of same material as dresses. They carried cascades of rubrum lilies.

DR. HARRY MONROE NELSON, Jr., brother of the groom, stood as best man. Ring bearer was Gordon Michael Black, nephew of the bride. Usher was Robert Mahlan.

Mother of the bride chose an ice blue peau de soie dress with low back and a large bow ending in a harem skirt effect. Mrs. Nelson wore a cream crepe dress with beige satin trim. Both mothers had pink camellias.

THE NEW Mrs. Nelson changed to a green and blue plaid tuxed suit to start her travel to Manhattan, Kan., where they will reside while Rob does work on his master's degree at Kansas State college.

Party Has Dixieland Setting

"Gala Nite in Dixieland" is this year's theme for the annual family party sponsored by the Mothers' club at the University of Detroit high school at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Parents of the students and their guests will dance to the music of Dave Farley or play card games of their choice in the school gymnasium, while the library will provide the setting for the festivities planned for the boys and their dates.

Art department students have transformed both areas into "Dixieland Nightclubs" with large cut-outs of musical instruments, record album covers and dancing figures.

HIGHLIGHT of the evening comes when the boys dance with their mothers as the dads take their places on the students' dance floor.

Mrs. George Cooney is general chairman and Mrs. Frank Petersmark is co-chairman.

Among others from Birmingham who are serving on various committees for the party are Mrs. Edward Stenger, Mrs. John Theisen, Mrs. Richard Russell, Mrs. Milton Steucheli, Mrs. Robert Magill, Mrs. Albert Quarton and Mrs. Harry McGowan.
