

Have you many friends about whom you think kindly . . . and who, in return, think similarly about you? Perhaps there is no happier goal to set for yourself than the simple (or is it so simple?) acquisition of friends . . . for they may so often be the means of bringing into your life those human (touching with divine) words and deeds that are never available via price tags.

Welcome Birminghamites

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark will visit the Congregational church of Birmingham, July 19. It was due to the efforts of Mr. Clark that the Congregational church of Birmingham was founded in 1953. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark were very active in the affairs of the church before moving to Ocala, Fla., in 1956. Mr. Clark was the first moderator of the church, and Mrs. Clark was the first church clerk. We welcome them back to Birmingham, even though it is only for a brief stay.

Troth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Allen Carter announced the engagement of their daughter, Jerady Ann, to Robert Eggle Hawkins Sunday at a garden party at their home on Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills. A graduate of Kingswood school Cranbrook, the bride-elect attended Wheaton College for Women in Massachusetts and was affiliated with Sigma Gamma association. She is now a student at the University of California and a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Her fiance, son of Mrs. Joseph Orey Hawkins of Carmel-by-Sea, Calif., and the late Dr. Hawkins, is a graduate of the University of California, where he was affiliated with Delta Upsilon Fraternity. An August 8 wedding is planned.

Milkan Trophy at Stake

When DAC Beavers take off for the Old Club Tuesday, they'll be headed by Birminghamite Fred H. Rolins, Jr., of Shirley drive, who was recently elected the 1959-60 Beavers president.

The Tuesday event is the DAC swimming group's annual outing to Old Club on Harsen's Island and the trip over will be made aboard a fleet of cruisers leaving Grosse Pointe Yacht club docks at 10 a.m.

The day will be given over to sports: a tennis tournament, shuffleboard, horseshoe and golf pitching contest and a 3 p.m. baseball game. The DAC Bowlers have been invited to the outing as they are each year. That insures fans for each side at the hotly-contested baseball game between Beaver and Bowler teams. Coveted prize is the old milkan trophy, which is newly polished for this highlight feature.

Personal Touch Added

A new column, Birmingham-Bloomfield, has been added to the society section. The area will be covered by Mrs. Robert H. Porter of N. Glenhurst drive, Birmingham. A resident of Birmingham for 12 years, she is the mother of Bob and Steve, who are both students at Quorton. Nancy is a member of the Village Woman's club, St. Dunstan's Guild, U of M alumnae association, Collegiate Sorosis association of Birmingham, and Needlework Guild. See her column on page 4-C.

A Summer Day at the Open Hunt

The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastern Michigan university and has taught four years in the Birmingham school system. She teaches kindergarten at Valley Road school. Her fiance is a graduate of Marietta college. He was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta.

An August 29 wedding is planned.

Susan Cole Weds Dennis J. Slater

Susan Paula Cole appeared in a white silk organza gown for her marriage to Dennis James Slater Saturday evening at the Episcopal Church of the Advent. The Rev. John Wigle performed the candlelight ceremony in the presence of 110 guests.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Cole of Worthington drive, Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. James G. Slater of Grand Lodge, Mich.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN featured a full skirt with a criss-cross organza cummerbund terminating in a wide bow and hem-line sash in back, lace fitted bodice, sabrina neckline and cap sleeves.

A circle crown of hand-made organza flowers set with pearls secured her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. A colonial cascade of white carnations completed her bridal outfit.

Mrs. William Stots of Detroit served as honor attendant, and Paula Julia Cole, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They were polished pale pink cotton hresses, patterned after the bride's gown, with strawberry red chiffon sashes.

THEIR HEADDRESSES were halo type with pink illusion-nose tip veils studded with pearls and carried pink carnations in a colonial semi-cascade.

Father of the groom, James G. Slater stood as best man. Seating the guests were Lynn Briggs of Huntington Woods and Lana Vanderalde of Berkeley.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cole chose a honey-beige lace over rosey tulle tartaeta sash and green accessories. Her corsage was a green orchid. Mrs. Slater selected a silk organza dress with blue accessories and a white orchid.

RECEPTION followed at the home of the bride's parents. The new Mrs. Slater changed into a black sheath with a white eyelid topper for her wedding trip to Louisville, Ky.
