Rev. A. F. Plant (center), studies Episcopal diocesan cathedral center construction with architectural representatives Julian R. Cowin (left) and Lester H. Waldo.

Engineer-Minister at Work

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—At his desk, he's Fletcher Plant, 735 Yarmouth, registered professional engineer—a veteran of better than 40 years in the field—past president of both the Michigan society of professional engineers and the Detroit chapter of the group.

In the sanctuary, he's the Reverend A. F. Plant, administrative assistant to the bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan—a veteran of the cloth for some five years now.

AND AT THE CROSSROADS of the expanding cultural and medical center in Detroit (the Woodward-Warren area), he has combined both roles. In the construction of a $1.5 million Episcopal diocesan cathedral center adjacent to St. Paul's Cathedral, Dr. Plant is serving as liaison man between the architects, Harley, Ellington & Day, Inc., the chapter (the governing group of St. Paul's Cathedral), and the bishop, the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich.

Bloomfield Village Man Named Trustee Denison U.

Harold B. Stubbs, 601 North Glenary road, is one of two new members elected by the alumni to three-year terms on the board of trustees of Denison University, Granville, Ohio. Stubbs is known for his designing of the annual GM Motorama. He also created the GM exhibit at the Brussels World's Fair and currently he is in Moscow, Russia, working on GM's exhibit for the World Trade Fair. He is married to the former Evelyn Pense, a 1928 Denison graduate. Their daughter, Julie, will be a senior at Denison in the fall.
