It's Over, But Not for Long

Well, it's over. The seniors are gone. The juniors are seniors, and so it goes around and around. Where it leads, nobody knows, but we all hope for the best.

The year's last assembly, held Monday, June 8, was perhaps the most important of the year since it honored specifically those students of high mental and intellectual achievements. This year's science award was split among three of the most outstanding students ever to attend the high school.

SCIENCE instructor Steven Valurik took great pleasure in giving John Marley, Larry Edmann, and Howard Kutchall recognition for their fine achievements in the field. Larry and John also shared honors in the field of mathematics.

When Mrs. Condon, mathematics instructor, who is retiring this year, rose to present the awards, she was greeted by a several minute standing ovation from the student body in appreciation of her work with us in the past years.

Shirley Smith was named the outstanding senior citizen of the year in light of her service to the school. Shirley was further honored when she was recognized as salutatorian.

LUCY BARNES, who has a record of straight "A's" was named valedictorian. Elected to the Wells College honor society was Laura Kimbrough. Honored for their outstanding journalistic talents were Marty Cole and Hester Black.

Here and there, once again, as is the custom, BHS seniors enjoyed a skip day when they all went to Camp Dearborn for a day of basking in the sun.

NEXT YEAR'S senior class officers were elected last Friday. Dan Riley will be president; Rick Clark, vice-president; Lynn Marshall will be secretary. Recording secretary will be

Troy HS Names Top 2 Students—Both Girls

The two top students at Troy high school—both girls—received the school's top two honor positions last week.

MAIA COONS and Margaret Elizabeth Roe were named valedictorian and salutatorian respectively.

MAIA'S ACADEMIC average has been perfect. She is a member in the National Honor Society, the National Honor Society, Girls' Athletic Association, and H.Y. She was secretary-treasurer of the Ski club, 12th-grade president of the Future Nurses of America, had a part in the senior play, a place on the Student council, and a queen's crown at homecoming.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coons, 4255 Beach road, Birmingham. She received the D.A.R. Good Citizen award, and plans to attend the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va. She will study government and international relations.

SLUTATORIAN Mary Roe held a 93.98 average out of a possible 4.000. She was a four-year band member, belonged to the Girl scout, 4-H, the Rainbow girls. Future teachers, and the National Honor society.

Winner of the National Presbyterian scholarship, Mary plans to study bio-chemistry for nuclear physics at Alma college.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Roe, 3549 Livermore, Troy.

DCDS Graduates For 46th Time

The near-catch of summer has settled on Detroit Country Day school, and the 46th commencement is at the school's 46th commencement.

Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, senior minister of Metropolitan Methodist church, spoke. Valtor Poole, assistant conductor, Detroit Symphony orchestra, provided the music.

Graduates included John Burnside, Detroit; Charles Christian, Pleasant Ridge; Robert Frank, Detroit; Roy Gilbert, Detroit; Cliff Higgins, Franklin; Jim Kramer, Detroit; James MacFarlane, Detroit; Howard Nielson, Pleasant Ridge; Charles Thompson, Detroit; Dave Newman, Detroit; Joe O'Brien, Birmingham; Sheldon Skare and William Smith, both of Detroit.

Leelanau Schools Cite Localities

Four local out-state high school students were awarded excellence citations from the Leelanau schools as the academic year moved to its activity-filled close.

Paul Rollins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Rollins, Jr., 978 Shirley drive, Birmingham, received a language award.

Richard Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, 2801 Salem road, Farmington, won the essay award.

David Hiebler was given the excellence in poetry award. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hiebler, live at 275 Guilford road, Bloomfield Hills.
