

Kingswood Column

During assembly period on Monday, March 2, Jane Anderson announced the winners of the "Acorn" contest. Three girls each won a prize of five dollars for writing the best entry in specific divisions, and there were several honorable mentions. In the seventh and eighth grade division, Peggy France won the prize for "Now I Know," and honorable mention went to Alison Wardrop and Kathy Shore. Carolyn Voigt won the ninth and tenth grade prize for "Episode" while Suzy Fuchs and Alice Rushing received honorable mention. "Modern Prologue," by Trish Kelley, was chosen as the best eleventh and twelfth grade entry. In this division Julie Krueger and Barbara Morgan received honorable mention.

The Kingswood and Cranbrook glee clubs presented "Carousels" both Friday and Saturday nights, March 6 and 7. Harney Crouse, Chip Wilson, Val Armstrong, and Ben Aurand all starred in the show while Jan McNaughton, Val French, and Ray Sokol played in supporting roles. The show was a success, thanks to the foremost stars and directors Mr. R. Bates, Mrs. E. L. Chapman, Mr. Sauter, and Miss R. Furstenberg.

Before the opening on Saturday evening, March 7, Kingswood fathers were invited to accompany their daughters to a Dad's dinner in the Kingswood dining room and auditorium. Invitations to the dinner and the seating arrangement were managed by Miss Ruth Furstenberg and Val French.

Following "Carousels" on Saturday night the cast and make-up committee stayed in Cranbrook's small gymnasium for a cast party. Cakes were served and everyone danced and sang to music provided by a small guitar ensemble of Cranbrook boys.

The student cabinet and Mr. Young sponsored a group trip to the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints on Sunday, March 8, for all Kingswood and Cranbrook students who wished to go.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hoey invited all sophomores of Kingswood and Cranbrook to an open house at their home on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

This week many Kingswood girls who have been invited to Cranbrook's annual "C" Club dance are searching for costumes to wear this Saturday night. This year the couples are to go dressed as a song.

both Latin and Spanish.

Try-outs for the spring all-school play will be held March 10, 17. "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart will be presented on May 1-2.

"If you can't order it in French, you won't know what you're eating," said French club members as they dined at Anatole's French restaurant Monday evening. Thirty-nine students, sponsored by French instructors Virginia Hammond and Judith Boer left Southfield by bus for their annual French dinner.

Speech classes are brushing up on six bright one-act plays for presentation in April. The Festival, to be sponsored by the Thespians will include, "The Little Red School House," "The Ghost of Christmas," "The Mystery of Woody Manor," "The Importance of Being Earnest," "Tom Sawyer's Morning," and "Murder Is Fun."

Barons

spectacle, but the real test is yet to come. Best of luck, Barons!

Over the weekend, the ski club trekked to Snow Valley for a gay, boisterous three days of fun and frolic. They skied on Saturday, up and down the slopes, and then, when they were sufficiently worn out, they had a dance that night, rockin' and a stompin' till all hours of the night, and then on Sunday they were up with the sun and out on the ski trail again. Hoo hoo, were they tired!

This was really a week of unusual happenings at BHHS. Last Friday the teachers gave a wonderful assembly to celebrate the Barons' victory on Wednesday. The Chipmunks were there with the help of Mr. Dennis, Mr. Sturgeon and Mr. Jewel, and then Charlie Brown came, disguised as Mr. Hoff. Bridget Bardot made an appearance, impersonating Miss Orkoff, and finally Elvis Presley swung in, giving a great rendition of Mr. Murray. All jolly fun, the students are still bugging the teachers for autographs.

Looking Around: Sandy Nunneley held a victory party after the game Saturday, and everyone was celebrating right and left, with dancing and eating and... celebrating... Mark Miller held a party for sophomore friends, and finally, Barb Donnelly held an open house Saturday evening.

Appointment of a policewoman in Athens, Tex., prompted the town's three-man police force to immediately resign.
