

In "Pajama Game"

Linda Kohlhof (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kohlhof of Mayfair lane, Birmingham, and Bethany Baldwin of Livonia with director, Colby Lewis, work on a scene from the hit Broadway musical comedy, "The Pajama Game," to be presented by the MSU Players through Saturday. The play is produced in cooperation with the music and physical education department at MSU. It is the rollicking story of what happens at the "Sleep-Tite" pajama factory when the new superintendent falls in love with the chairman of the grievance committee, and finds himself on the opposite side during a strike. The cast includes a 19-member vocal chorus and an eight-member dance group.
