AIA Selects Local Firm's School Model

The American Institute of Architects committee on school building has included the Westview elementary school model, Warren, in its forthcoming summer exhibit at the Octagon, the AIA's building in Washington, D. C.

The Westview school was designed by Jim Derwin, of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, 950 N. Hunter, Birmingham.

This model was selected because it presented a new concept of the cluster-type school featuring major economy in corridor space and a method of decentralized heating. The latter feature represented a saving of $70,000.

Committee and advisory boards in connection with the construction industry, as well as American Society of Military Engineers, National Defense Executive Reserve, and Associated General Contractors of America. He is president of Custer Air Force Housing, Inc.

JOHN F. MALONE

Malone To Head Advertising

Appointment of John F. Malone as advertising manager for Pontiac Motor division has been announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager. The appointment is effective April 1.

Malone, formerly manager of Pontiac's Cleveland sales zone, succeeds H. A. Kissam who has been named manager of the vehicle sales staff for GM Overseas Operations division in New York.

MALONE joined Pontiac in 1940 as parts and service representative in Boston following extensive experience with automobile dealerships in Wilmington, Delaware, and assignments with the GM sales section.

He also served as district manager, service manager, and business management manager in the Boston zone before his promotion to assistant zone manager in Philadelphia in 1949. During the same year, Malone assumed the duties of Pittsburgh zone manager, later transferring to head the New York zone in 1953. He had been Cleveland zone manager since 1957.

Cameo Shop Builds Japanese Section

The Cameo Shop, 1416 S. Woodward, Royal Oak, has devoted one whole section to Japanese culture and products.

Included in the section is a typical Japanese garden. Consultant for the project was Miss Robert MacMullen, who is consultant to one of the leading architectural firms in Japan.
