AAA Road Service Calls Head for All-Time Mark

Birmingham and other Michigan garages are headed for an all-time high of five million road service calls in 1959, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Last year, an estimated 3,480,000 calls set a new record, but garages throughout the state estimate that garages in his division answered 53,000 calls in 1958. He said the figure would be much higher this year with 39,500 calls handled since December 1.

Brown labelled weak batteries, heavy snow and excess ice as the chief causes of complaints. Can't start and stuck calls, which usually account for 65 per cent of all calls, will be near 80 per cent this year because of the severity of the winter, he said.

Garage owners report that heavy snow and ice conditions this winter made service difficult and coupled with the steady flow of calls caused considerable breakdown of equipment.

W & M Week

National weights and measures week is in full swing now, according to local chairman James McCollum, an inspector for the foods and standards division of the Michigan department of agriculture. Almost everything that is worn, eaten, weighed or measured comes under the close scrutiny of an inspector or sealer, McCollum said.
