

Camp Cavell Girls Plan Reunion

Reviving memories of last summer and making plans for the warm months ahead are Camp Cavell enthusiasts Penny Ingram of Detroit (left), Diane Hitchcock of 2032 Manchester (center) and Elizabeth Dallas of 840 Ardmore. The girls will be hostesses at Camp Cavell Day sponsored by South

Oakland center YWCA at the Drayton avenue Presbyterian church, Pinecrest and Drayton avenues, Ferndale, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 14. The day will provide a reunion for former Cavell campers and an opportunity for registration of new campers.

Harlan PTA's Regular Meet

* Dr. Paul D. Carter of the University of Michigan will be the guest speaker at the Harlan school PTA March 11. His topic will be "Better Relationship Between Home, School and Church."

Dr. Carter was formerly principal of Adams school before promotion to Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Curriculum of the Birmingham schools.

He is presently with the University of Michigan—Advisor for the Horace Rackham school of graduate studies, coordinator of directed teaching in the metropolitan area and also assistant professor of education at the University of Michigan.

He received his bachelor's degree at Eastern Michigan college, his masters from the U of M, and his doctorate of education at Wayne State university.

North Adams Hickory Heights Residents Attend Annual Dance

More than 200 residents of Hickory Heights subdivision danced to the music of the Phil Cole Trio at the Birmingham Community House Saturday evening.

Spring flowers adorned the refreshment tables, ushering in that spring feeling. This was the subdivisions record annual dance. The Fred Wilsons of Hickory Heights drove were the dance chairman. Many cocktail parties were hosted in the neighborhood before dance time.

Ozage Garden club members, branch of the WNEGA, met in the Old World Room of the International Institute for a Hungarian luncheon Tuesday. The walls of the intriguing room are lined with paintings done by artists of different lands.

Seated at the speakers table centered with clusters of potted begonias in wicker were Mrs. George Robb, president of the Ozage and Mrs. C. S. Maxwell, Ozage International cooperation chairman.

Their guest speaker was Mrs. Alice K. Sturm, a retired school teacher and member of the council board at the institute. Her talk was on International Cooperation followed by a tour of the building.

It was a "night on the town" for wives of the members of the Investment club in Charing Cross Estates Saturday evening. The twelve men escorted their wives into Birmingham to a waiting chartered bus that took them to "My Fair Lady." After the movie the group had cocktails and dinner before their trip back to Birmingham.

The Robert Hardings entertained friends at cocktails and buffet supper in their N. Evansdale drive home before attending "Visit to a Small Planet" an Avon Players performance at the Rochester high school Feb. 21. Among their guests were Tom King, an Avon Player, playing the lead role, and Mrs. King, who is makeup consultant with the Avon group. Their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kelley of St. Clair Shores.

Last week was a busy one for the Richard Havilands of Haddington road. On Sunday they hosted a dinner birthday for 18 in honor of Mrs. Haviland's father, Arthur Coates of Flint. Extending their best wishes were Mrs. Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Coates of Royal Oak, and other guests from Port Huron and Trenton.

Co-hosting a "get acquainted tea" on Thursday evening for parents and the new second-third combination grade teacher, Adeline Giacaroni, of Harlan school, were homemaker mothers Mrs. Robert Marker, Mrs. George Voelker and Mrs. Richard Haviland, at the Haddington drive home of the Havilands.

Like many in the Charing Cross Estates, the Richard Havilands of Haddington have formed a dance club that has been meeting in the different homes for the past 10 weeks. Their teachers, Mr. and

SOCIETY

Smith Alumnae to Hear 1959 Plans

Members of the Birmingham Smith college club will gather March 7 at 1:00 p.m. for a fresh-from-the-campus report on the past year's progress and future plans, policies and aims.

One of the highlights of the group's year, Saturday's meeting will provide an opportunity for area alumnae to hear reports of Mrs. William Bartholomew, scholarship chairman and Mrs. E. Steven Bauer, past president. Dessert and coffee will precede the reports. Hostess for the day will be Mrs. James Dickerson, 720 Westwood, Birmingham.

Auxiliary Meeting

The women's auxiliary to the Oakland County Dental society will meet Tues. at the Kingsley Inn. Social hour will be at 6:30 with dinner at 7 p.m. Highlight of the evening will be a talk by Valerie Stevens, an interior decorator in Birmingham.

Mrs. George Russell of Lathrup Village, performed the finale on Friday evening at the Haviland residence. Joining in the fun were the Don Kogges, the Gene Greens, the Atwood Edwards, the John Garners, the Robert Stansberrys, the Gordon Winkles, the John Morris, all of Birmingham.

Mrs. Richard Wickham and daughter, Dinsey, of Oakhill drive escaped the jaro temperatures by flying to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for a two weeks stay. Wickham was there to greet them after spending a week at Daytona Beach.

Wickham caught a few dolphins on one of his deep sea fishing trips. Joining them were Wickham's mother, Mrs. Esther Wickham of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Grosse Pointe. Parents of Mrs. Wickham.

The Robert Wallaces of Tallmadge drive have Mrs. Wallace's mother, Mrs. Blaine Cochran of Pittsburgh, Pa., visiting them. Mrs. Cochran arrived two weeks ago for an extended stay.

Mrs. James Watt hosted a coffee in her home on Haddington road recently. Her guests, all neighbors of Charing Cross Estates included Mrs. George Voelker, Mrs. John Finerman, Mrs. Alfred Kenrick, Mrs. Bernard Walsh and Mrs. William Hayes.

The theme of the Eastover PTO "Bake Sale" on March 5 will be "Bake for Cavers Nake." The proceeds will go to the school library for book covers.

March 5 is also voting day in Bloomfield, so with this in mind a coffee and donut corner will be waiting at the Bake Sale for the voters. Mrs. Hugh Carney, president of the PTO, and Mrs. Walter Morris, hospitality chairman, hope to make the fund raising a success.

The Eastover Boy Scout troop B14 held a family night at the school Feb. 24. H. P. Bemis, Community Commissioner presented the troop's charter to Douglas Clark, Institutional Representative and John L'Hote, scout master. The patrols, led by patrol leaders, Ron Jak, Bruce Rugg and John L'Hote, Jr., entertained their families with a series of skits on phases of scouting.

The "Tournament of Charades" in Leonard lane was hosted by the William Kearns of Lanargan drive on Saturday evening. It was a race of the husbands versus the wives, with the wives the victors at the end of the evening. Joining in the fun were the Fred Eckouts, the Paul Taylors, the Charles Howards, the Don Frankmans and the Alan Yates.
