SOCIETY

Women Voters Meet March 11

Members of the League of Women Voters have invited citizens of Oakland county to attend a meeting on County Home rule. Sponsored by the Oakland County Council of the League it will give voters information on an issue that may come before them. The Birmingham Community House will be the scene of the meeting on Wednesday, March 11, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

Mr. Robert Queller, administrative director of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan will be guest speaker. He will be joined by Mr. Delos Hamlin and Mr. Carl Ingraham in a panel discussion to be followed by a question and answer period.

A resolution for County Home Rule has been introduced at the Board of Supervisors meeting and referred to the Legislative committee. If the resolution is brought out of Committee and passed affirmatively by the Board of Supervisors the Board will request the Michigan State Legislature to develop and submit to the voters a flexible and simple amendment providing for County Home Rule.

Soroptimists Hear Alice Burlingame

Alice Wessels Burlingame, noted writer and lecturer, was guest speaker at the Feb. 26 dinner meeting of Soroptimist International of Birmingham. Topic of her talk was "Gardens—Home and Abroad." Mrs. Burlingame is consultant for Chicago public schools, special writer for The Birmingham Eccentric, teacher at the Birmingham Community House, and designer of many local gardens. Recently returned from a tour of the outstanding gardens of Europe, Mrs. Burlingame has completed a new book, "Therapy Through Horticulture," soon to be released.

Couple Exchange Vows In Lutheran Ceremony

Redeemer Lutheran church was the scene Saturday evening for the marriage of Myrna Dorothy Schoenberg and Mathew John Schenk, Jr. The Rev. Theodore Wiggazzer performed the 6:30 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harold Schoenberg of Inkster road, Birmingham. Her husband is the son of the senior Schenks of Berkeley.

THE BRIDE APPEARED in a taffeta and chantilly lace floor length gown with rosebud design. A Juliet cap secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet consisted of amazon lilies, white roses and ivy. Gail Weckesser served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Elaine Noel, Lynn Weckesser and Beverly Seaman. Attendants were gowned in powder blue taffeta dresses with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. They carried white carnations.

Steve Kozen stood as best man. Ushers were Mike Flemming, Don Stock and Wally Caco.

MRS. MATHEW J. SCHENK, JR.

For HER DAUGHTER'S wedding, Mrs. Schoenberg chose a champagne chantilly lace dress with accessories to match. Mother of the groom selected a beige lace.

SUBURBAN SCENE

Same time, same place: Very small son—all but hidden beneath daddy's sports cap—casually draped over a stack of 25-pound bags of dog food—perusing the latest Little Golden book—with all the aplomb of the most sophisticated city-bound commuter waiting for the train.

Last minute note from Mrs. F. Sibley Moore announces a change in the Detroit Artist's Market schedule. Opening March 11 is an exhibit of the works of sculptor Morris Brose. Hours for the opening night are 7:00 through 11:00 p.m.

Good to know, too, that Mrs. Harry L. Winston—owner of one of America's finest collections of modern art—will present the next lecture in the Market's series at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 10:00 a.m. March 18. Don't know of anyone as qualified to speak from "The Collector's Point of View."

No March we've known had a lovelier beginning. Sun in the streets—strong sense of spring, without and within—time for reflection—thoughtful conversation—music at midnight.

If hours might be condensed, we'd say this month's first day held. "The unique moment of proper measure, in which there is neither too little—or too much."
