24 Issues We Favor For Purchase

Our Research Department suggests in a new Market Letter that superior investment opportunities are now offered by companies which combine satisfactory current earnings with a good long-term outlook. In particular, we favor these three issues:

A Chemical Company now available on an unusually attractive basis. First quarter operating profits equaled over 25% of sales.

A Diversified Electronics Company we regard as especially attractive for those who seek participation in electronics growth and prefer to avoid the specialized issues.

An Automobile Manufacturer with challenging speculative appeal and a surprising first quarter net profit.

In view of a continuing favorable outlook for corporate earnings and dividends, our Market Letter also names 21 other stocks which we favor for new purchases. For your copy of this Letter, simply mail the coupon below.
